Memories
As A Bulldog

Memories as a bulldog will stay with us our whole life long.
The joys and the sadness we shared while going through the losses and the wins.

Friends we kicked it with every day when we leave here we will miss them in such a way.
When we came from middle school
we were surrounded by strangers.
On our graduation night we will be surrounded by family and friends.

We have grown from freshmen to seniors
We were blind to know how it would feel to let them all go.
Happy to be grown and going our way,
Down inside wishing we had one more day.
Some of the best memories we will ever have will be our memories as a Bulldog.

It Is The DAWGS House

It's time for a birthday party! Wyandotte High School's building is 60 years old March 4, 1997.

The facility, which is a landmark in Kansas City, Kansas, was completed March 4, 1937, three years after the first Wyandotte building burned March 3, 1934.

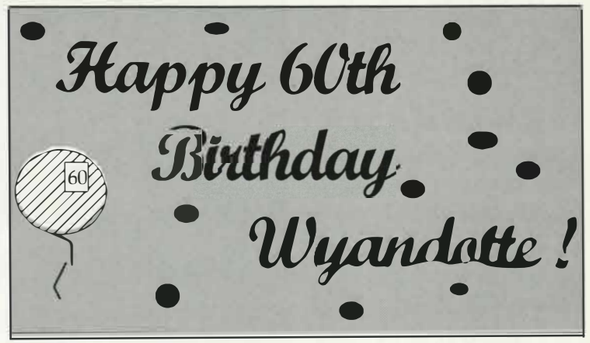
Kansas City, Kansas, had planned to build a new, better high school in 1935; but a fire, which began in a wastebasket, hastened the move.

As the building burned March 3, 1934 "students assisted firemen in their battle to save their building," reported The Kansan. "Many rushed in to retrieve the various trophies awarded over the years for athletic and academic achievements."

To this day, many of the trophies which survived are permanently blackened.

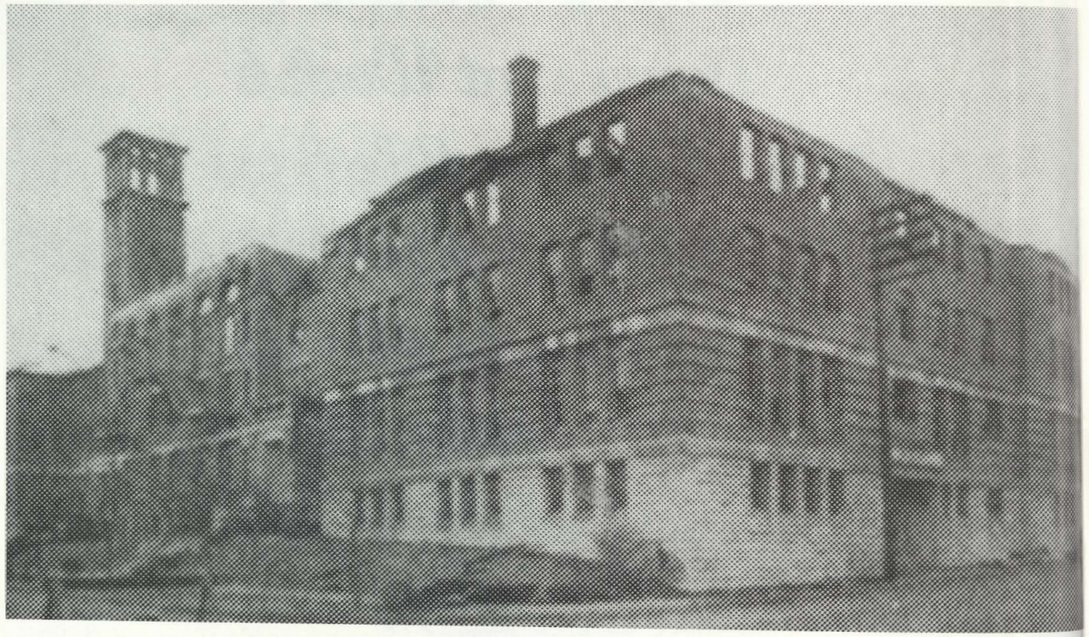
From the ashes, a grand new building arose. The auditorium, for example, was considered the best of its kind in the country. It seats 1,796. Various panels around the auditorium depict significant scenes. Significant are those at the top and on both sides of the stage. They depict four stick-figure men clasping hands forever. These panels were constructed in memory of the four workers who were killed during construction of the building.

The original flag pole came to campus in 1938. Oregon lumberjacks finally found a spruce tree to meet the specifications and dimensions of a ship's mast. The wooden pole was replaced in the 1950's after the original was damaged in a windstorm.



Glorious past, bright future--Happy Birthday Wyandotte!

1937



From the ashes that was WyandotteHigh School 1934. The new building was completed March 4, 1937, on the land next to the athletic fields.

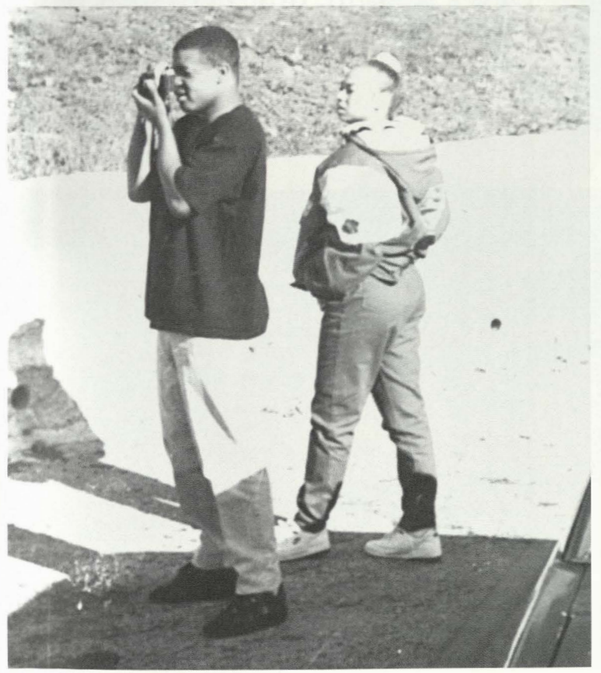
Dawgs at Work

The most important work Bulldogs do is get an education. Opportunities abound at Wyandotte High School.

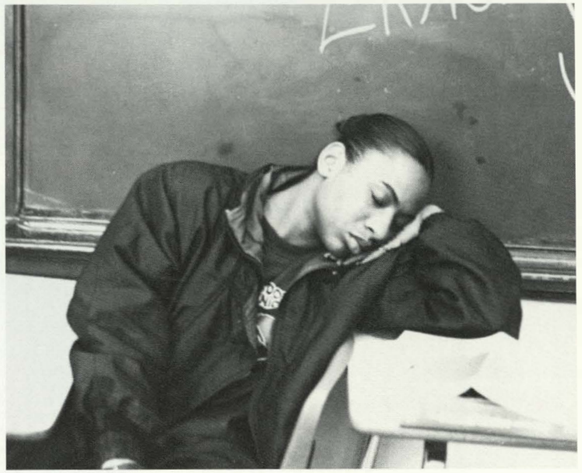
Students work in class, at activities and at being student athletes.

Wherever Bulldogs go they work hard. They have pride as they work toward excellence.

Seniors gather outside the building eagerly awaiting instructions.

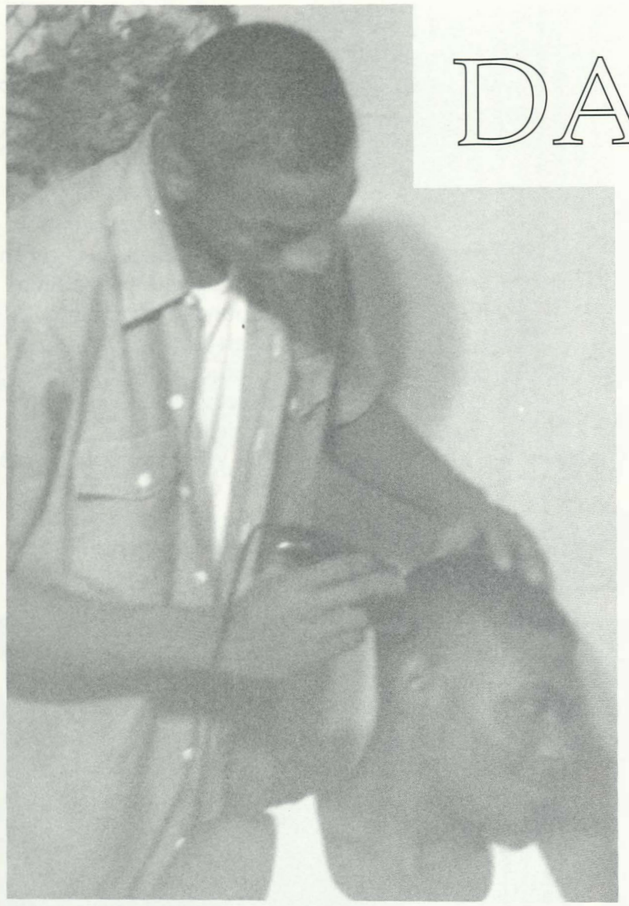


Students experience photography first hand at Wyandotte.



A Senior snoozes after a hard day of work, letting her brain relax.

DAWG'S LIFE

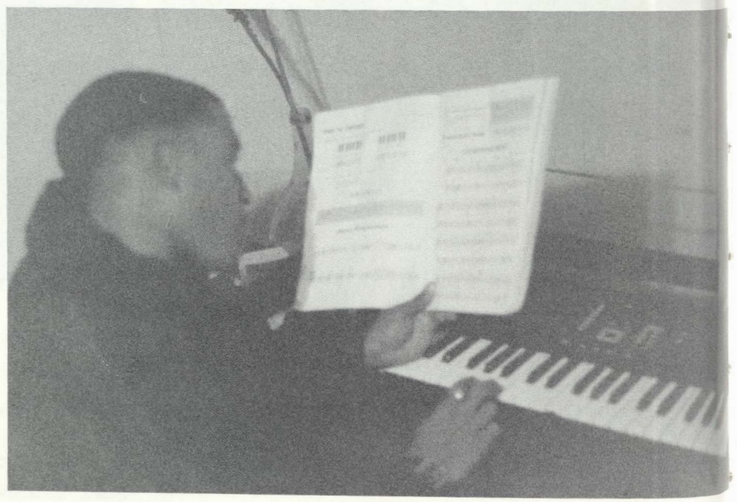


Cosmotology early? Patrick Jones engaged in his favorite past time.

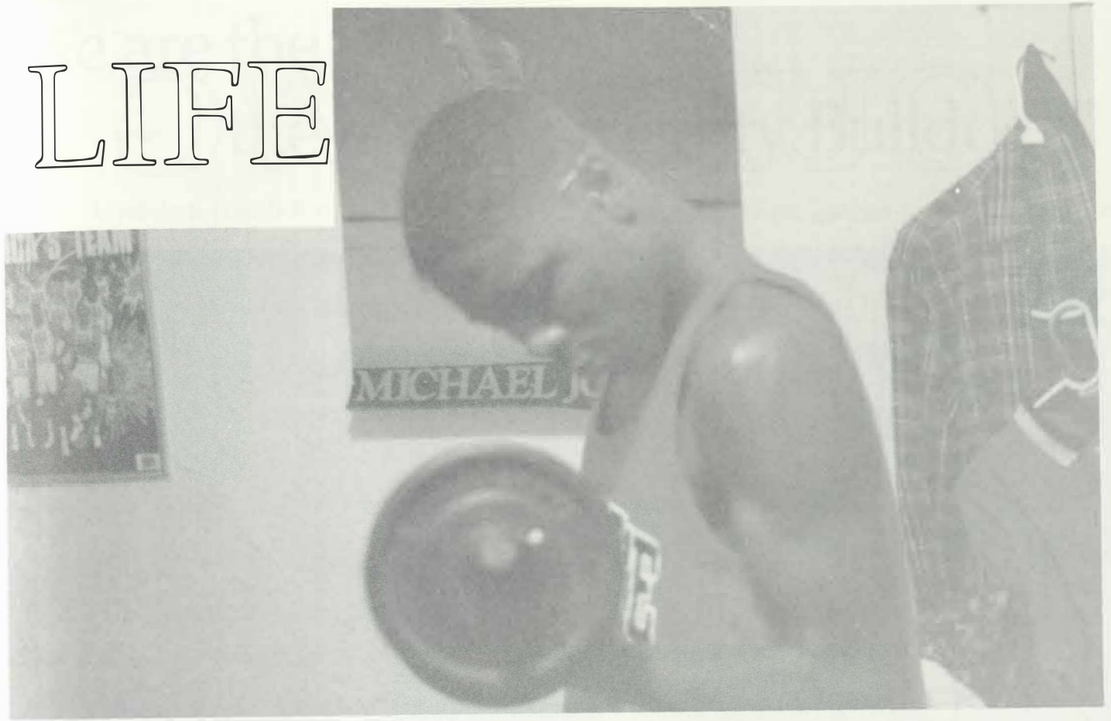
A DAWG'S life, not exactly Rudy's, but the students at the Dawg house. At Wyandotte, there are a variety of people and there are different strokes for different folks.

A Dawg's life ranges from an array of activities such as working, recreation, relaxing, and religion...

Many Dawgs are employed to pass time and, of course, to get paid. Recreation and fun-and-play periods are essentials to many of the "Dawg's" spare time activities.



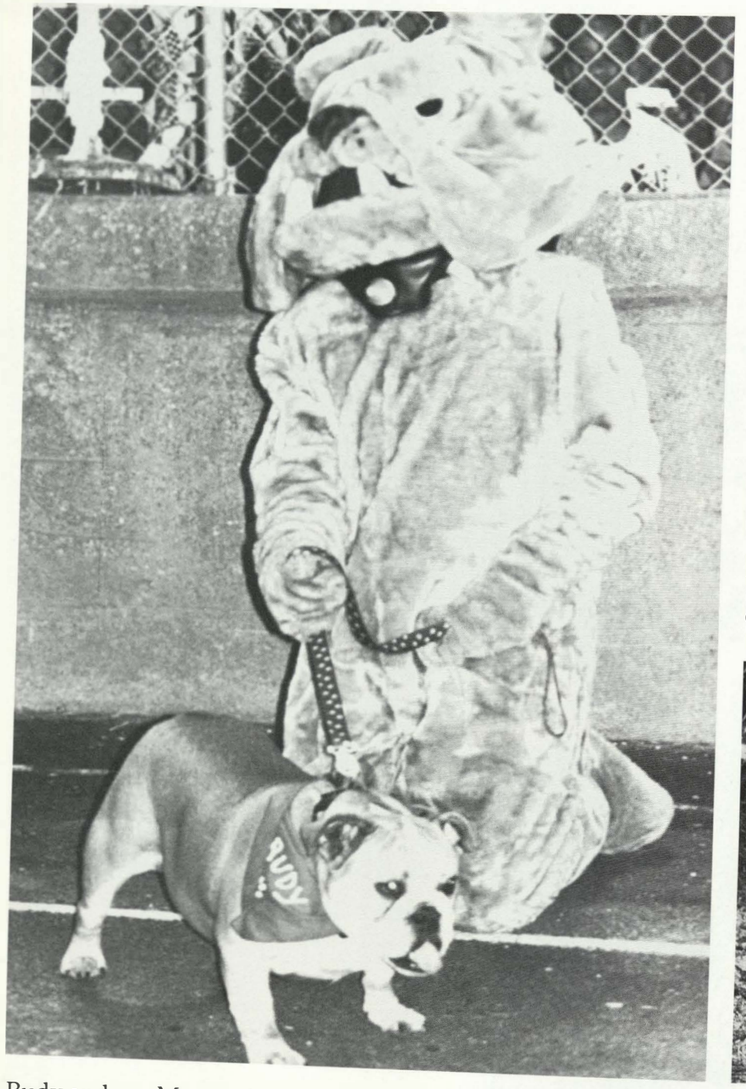
Adonja Pickett brushing up on his musical talents.



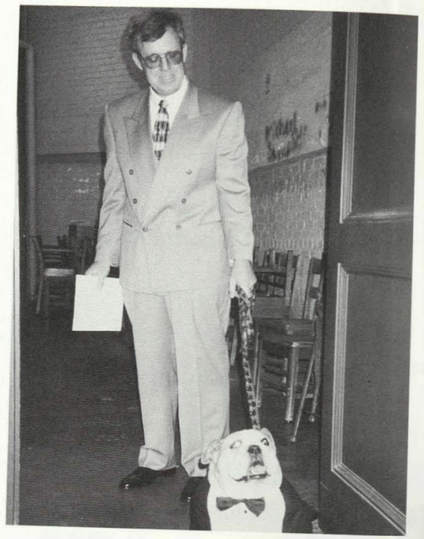
Workouts are good for the body and the mind. Stephen Carter engages in an vigorous workout.

Making ends meet, Daria Booth is passsing time working at her occupation.

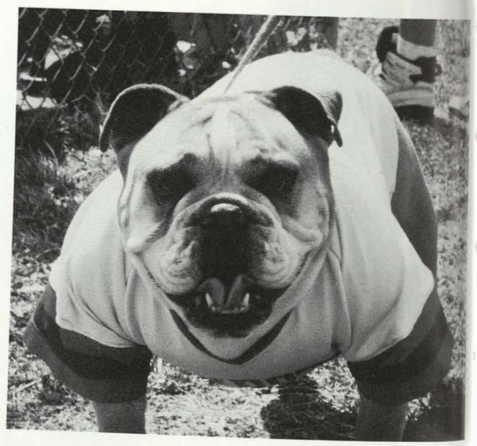
OUR DAWG



Rudy and our Mascot chill at "the Game"



Meeting with students is always a formal occasion so Rudy dresses up in his tuxedo.



Rudy comes to support the Bulldogs wearing his W.H.S. sweater.

'We are the Bulldogs... the mighty, mighty Bulldogs!'

Wyandotte High School is the home of the "Bulldogs." However, the students of Wyandotte High School have not always been called the "Bulldogs."

In earlier editions of the "Quiverian," the students were known as the "Jayhawkers." About 1925, we became the "Bullpups."

Finally, in 1927, and for the past seventy years, the mascot has been the "Bulldogs." Featured in the 1927 yearbook is a picture of a bulldog–a predecessor of Rudy, although his name is unknown.

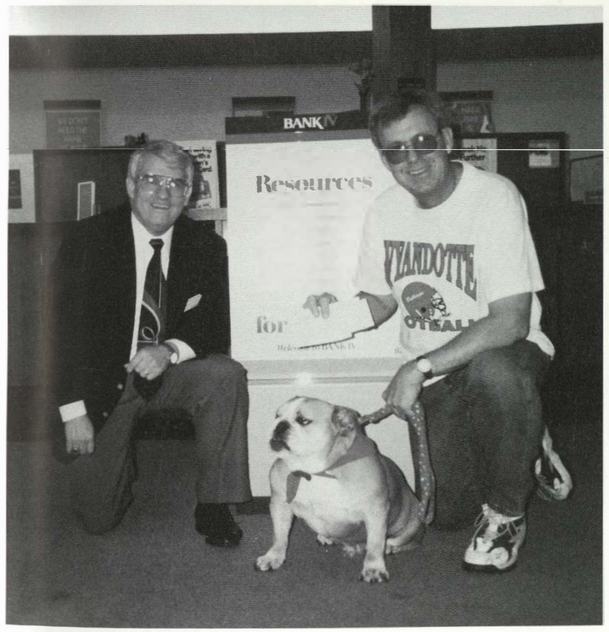
Rudy became part of Wyandotte in 1992. He is owned by Jack and Leota Halsted.

Not only has he been a part of Wyandotte, Rudy has starred in a video called Mickey Masters Agent of Truth, and has done commercials for Wal-Mart, The Jones Store and One Hour Photo.

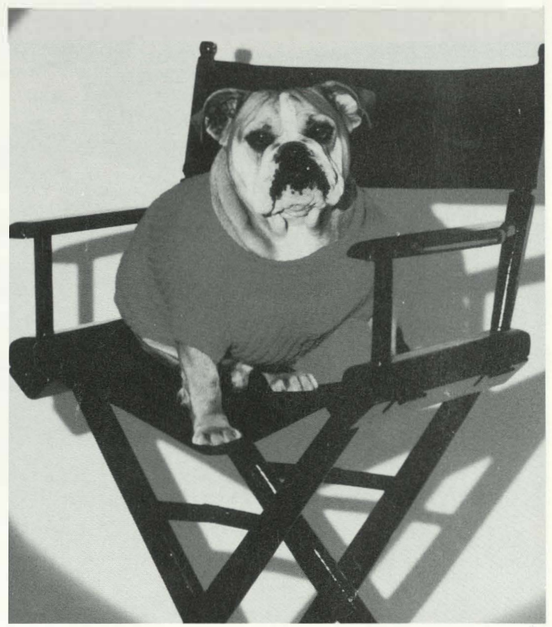
He helps Wyandotte economically by buying football jerseys and other things the school needs. His numerous talents are a major support for school based programs.

In addition, Rudy appears at many of the school events, such as sporting events, pep assemblies, and class assemblies.

Unfortunately, during the month of October, 1996, he had to undergo surgery to replace a ligament on his hind leg. As a result of this, on Halloween he was unable to pose for pictures for the first time in many years at Indian Springs Mall to raise money for the school. Like a true "Bulldog," Rudy got through it.

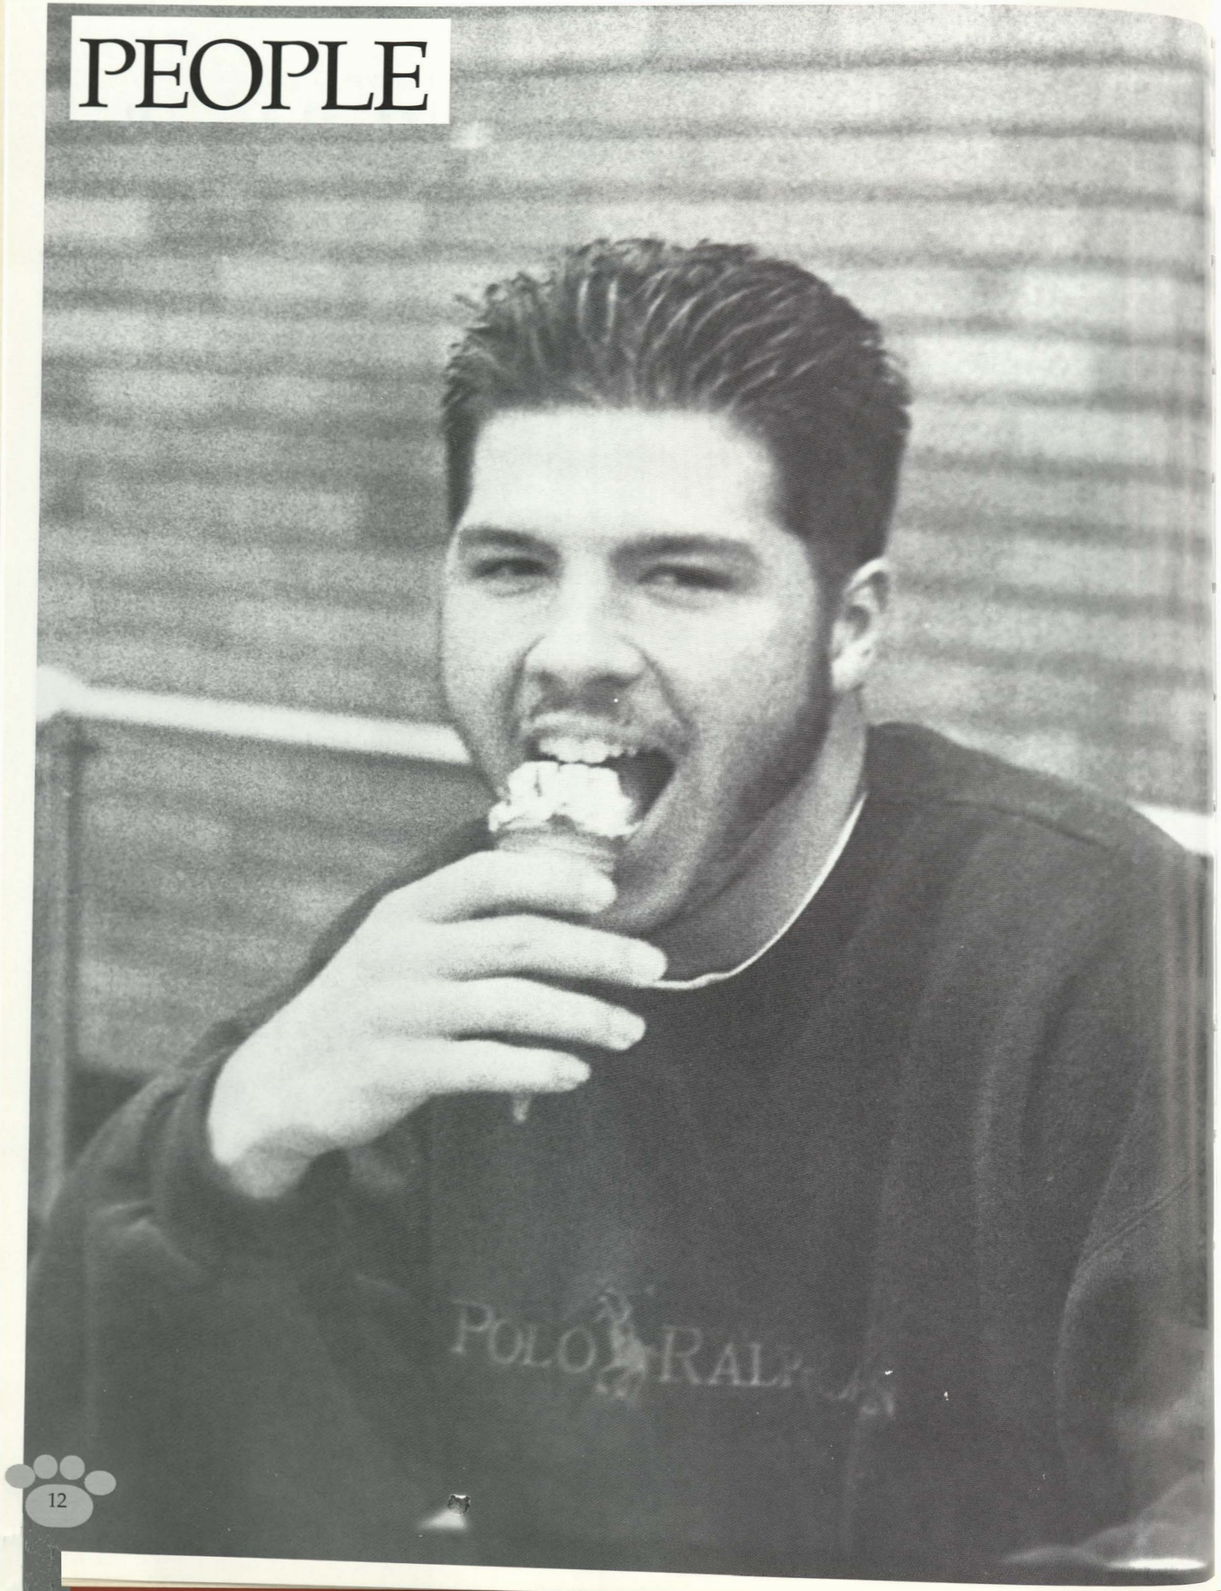


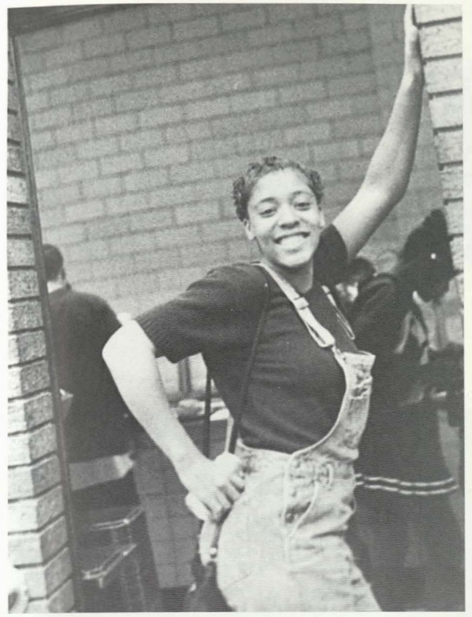
Mr. Halsted depositing money in the Booster club account.



Rudy "takes five" from his starring role in Mickey Masters Agent of Truth.

PEOPLE

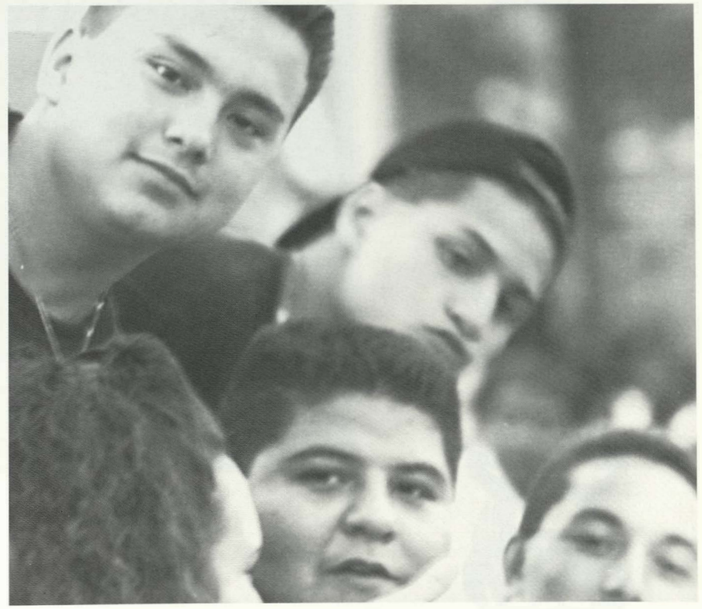




Nekeya Owen, junior, just stands in the lunch line" styling" in her jean overalls.

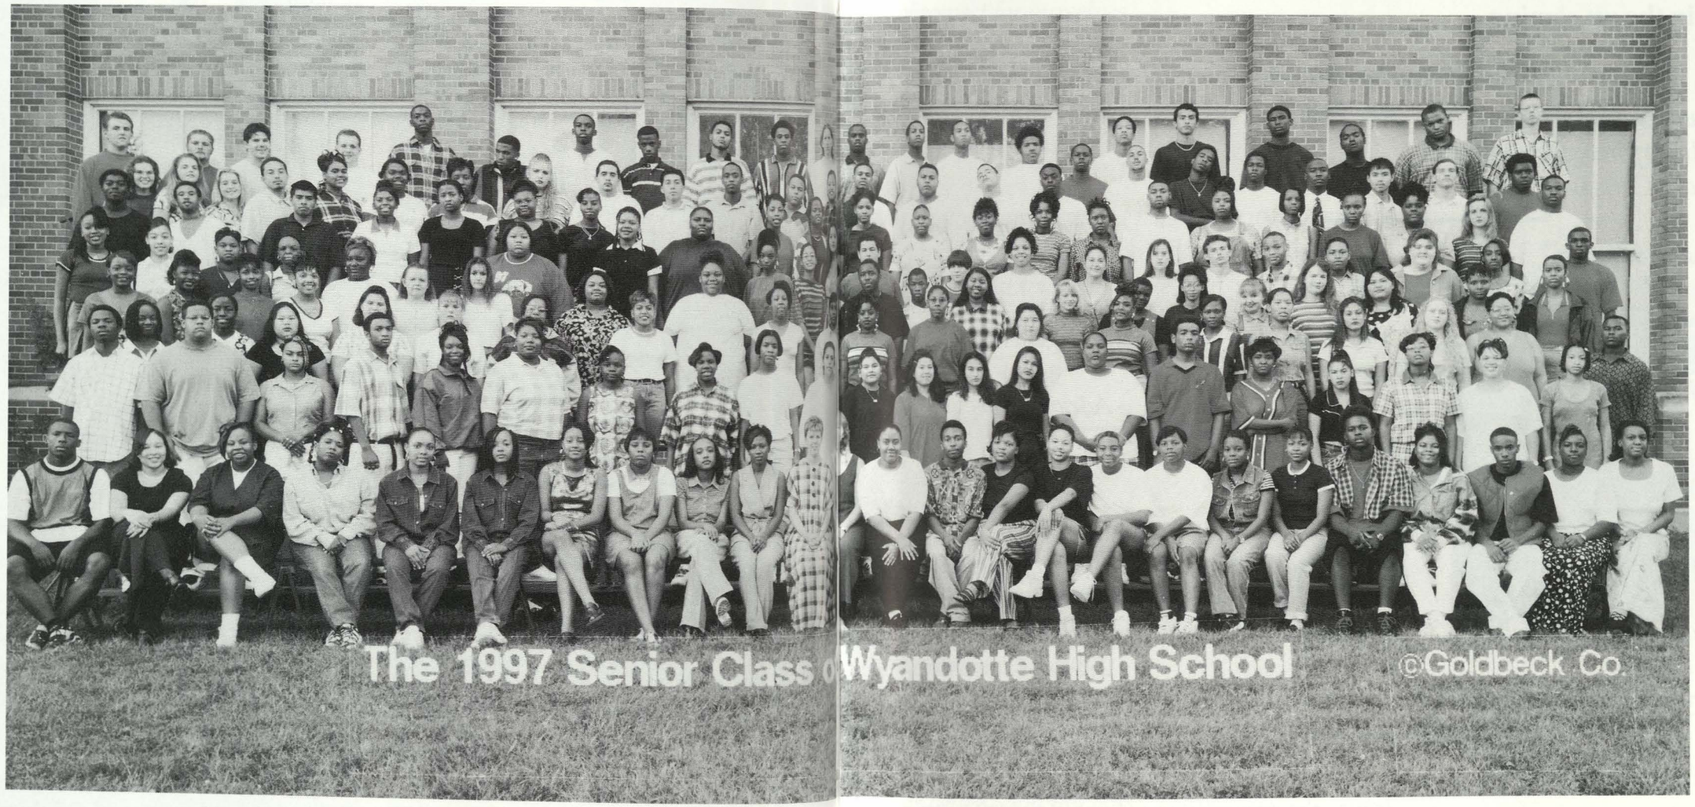
Seniors, LaRhonda Spears and Terri Wallace, along with faculty member Gale E. Spears, dress up on Halloween.

Paula Urquhart, president of Wyandottes' Booster Club, is always bringing something like the Halloween pumpkin to school.



Students at Wyandotte have a good time while supporting their fellow classmates at a game.

CLASS OF 1997



Senior Quotes

What teacher influenced your life the most?

Mr. Jim Larive , former Wyandotte English teacher, because he taught me there's nothing in my educational life that I can't do.

Trisha Goodlow

My mother because she has been my teacher for life and she gave me knowledge to come to school and learn.

Michael Smith

What do you plan to do in the up coming years?

I plan to work for Hallmark as a photographer and go to night school to graduate from college.

Tracy Chrisman

I plan to join a hockey league and hopefully make it to the NHL.

Gray Lindsay

Is there any advice you have for the class of 2000?

Treasure your high school days with your friends and teachers because they disappear rapidly.

Sabin Evens

You're the beginning of a new generation. Make it unforgettable.

Adriana Rios

What do you regret doing the most out of your four years in high school?

Not doing the best I could because I know I could have accomplished more than I have.

Crystal Thomas-

I regret getting in trouble and having to leave my junior year because I missed my friends and teachers.

Crystal Cushenbery

How was your first day as a freshmen?

I was very excited that I had made it to high school, but it was scary because of all the different people.

Patricia Sotelo

It was the greatest time of my life. I felt grown, and no one could keep me down !

LaKesha Rushing

If you could change anything about Wyandotte what would it be ?

The attitude of some students, it is ugly and disrespectful. We should learn to respect others out of respect for ourselves.

Janel Paschall

More freedom, unlocked phones, let students eat outside.

Brandi Woods

What was your best year at Wyandotte?

My Senior year because I have been waiting for a long time to finally become a senior. Now I know my goal will come true -- to graduate from high school in the year of 1997.

Lisa Martin

My senior year because I'm almost out of high school and you get to party more.

Desiree Estes

Seniors' favorite quotes

Hard work never hurt anyone and as Henry Ford said, "failure is the opportunity to begin again more intelligently.

TiwJaun Griffin

"Good, better, best, I will never let it rest , till my good is better , and my better is my best!"

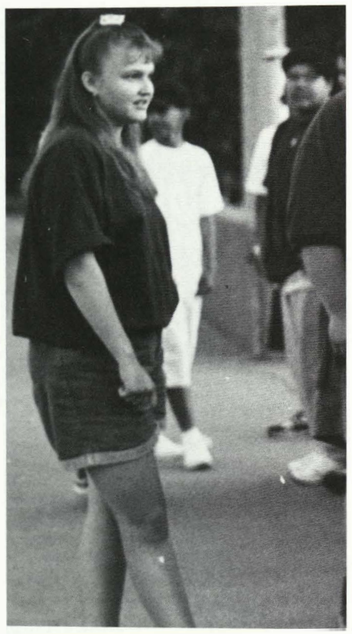
SOPHOMORE



Sophomore Pamela Cushenbery, otherwise known as Butchy, finds time in her busy schedule to hang out at a sporting event.

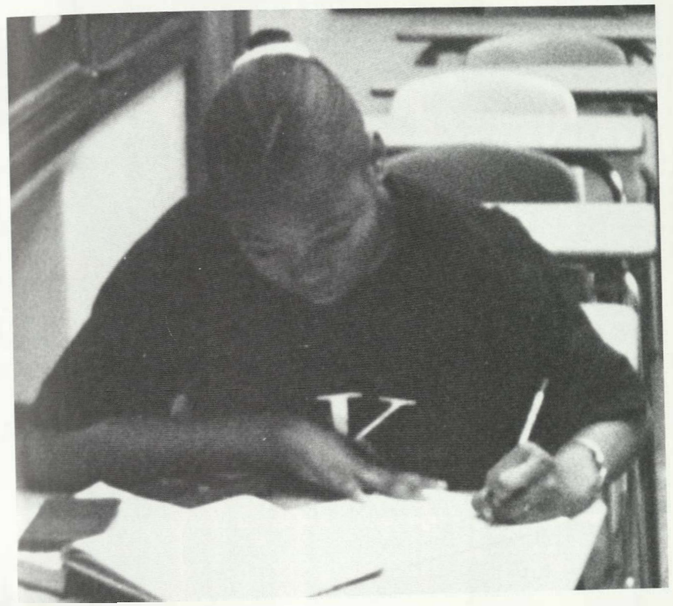
SOPHOMORES, CLASS OF 1999

"Save the best for last", at least that is how all the sophomores view it.

The sophomores are the last class of the 20th century. "We are unique because we are the last ones to graduate in the 20th century," said Tam Watson.

Sophomores enter the age of driving, dealing with harder courses in school, and many other responsibilities.

They have made it through their freshman in the Dawg House, and are evolving from bullpups into Bulldogs with few problems.



Tamika Allen, sophomore, studies hard to find the value of the variable in Nancy Hamil's math class.

Sophomore students engaged in learning the many rules of English in Paula Nickum's class.

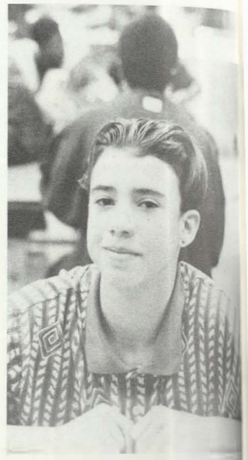
Freshmen have an array of special attributes. One of them being that they are the first class of the 21st century.

"It is a good experience to be part of a new generation of students to attend the Dawg House," remarked Janna Williams, one of the many new faces at Wyandotte High School.

Freshmen not only had to deal with being the first class of a new century, they also had a new environment to adjust to. "I've met a lot of new people," remarked Shonte' Brockman, during her first day at Wyandotte. The size of the school made getting around confusing but most made it through the year with some help from the older and more experienced Dawgs in the hall.

Freshmen had new requirements to fulfill which promised a very challenging first year. This class, as a whole, seemed to meet the challenge with great enthusiasm and they developed into a magnificent additions to the Dawg family.



Billy Anderson enjoys time in the cafeteria.

During the first week of school, freshmen, like Aaron Cooper and Brandi Baskin, became experts at making their way through the halls and into their classes on time.

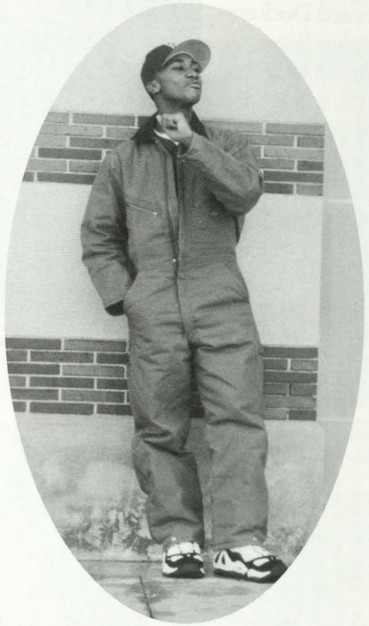
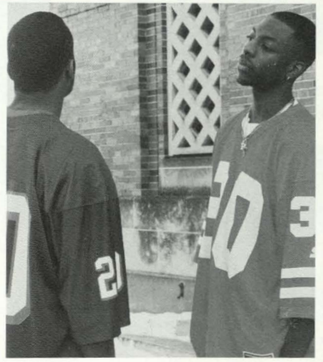
FASHIONS





Pimpish Yet Stylish

Tommy Hilfiger, Nautica, and Guess are only a few of the latest fashions students are sporting this year. Many young men prefer to wear nicely creased Dockers with a long sleeve Tommy, Nautica, or Guess shirt along with either Timberland Boots, Eastlands, or white leather K-Swiss, for more of a casual look.

Young ladies in '97 enjoy wearing a more sleek, but sexy look. Corduroy, short skirts, silk body shirts, and boots describe the gear needed for a night out with just the girls.

Senior Adonja Pickett and Sophomore William Estell model in some of Nautica's top of the line fashions for men.

A Sophisticated Evening

Wyandotte students are not only known for casual or sporty gear, but also for Formal attire. Students finesse in some of their most elegant after 5 p.m. dresses and nice suits and ties to show their sophisticated attitude.

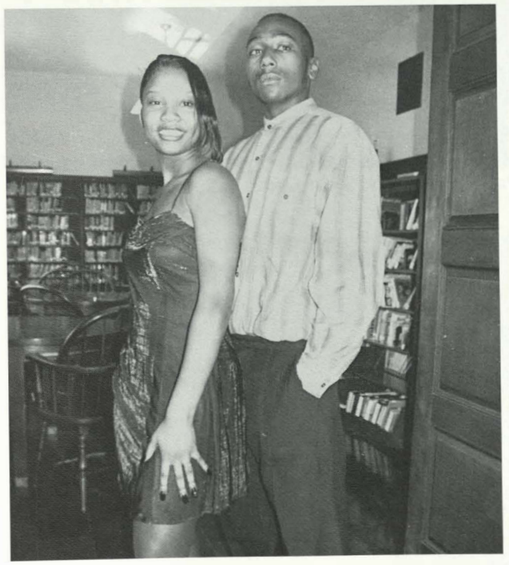
Senior Adonja Pickett styles in an all black suit, white dress shirt, beige, brown, and black tie with the matching handkerchief.



Sophomores Melissa Lee and Clifton MacIntosh style and profile in and after 5 p.m. dress and a collarless men's shirt and black slacks.

GAMEDAY

Sportswear is one of the most popular fashions that will never go out of style. Many students enjoy wearing hockey, football, and basketball jerseys. Professional sports teams make a lot of money off of students who are willing to buy their sportsgear. Wyandotte students usually wear jerseys worn by the most valuable player (MVP) on pro sports teams.

Just Chillin'

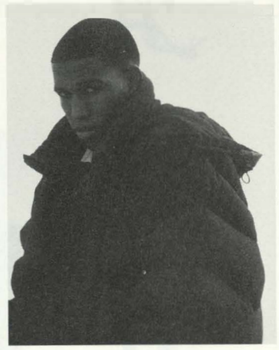
Winter fashions have made a big statement on the WinterGear scene. Many Eastcoast styles have made themselves popular across the Midwest. South Poles, First Downs, and Boom Xs are a few of the Eastcoast style bubble coats making fashion blow up with Wyandotte students.



Senior Adonja Pickett gears up in his all black First Downs winter coat.

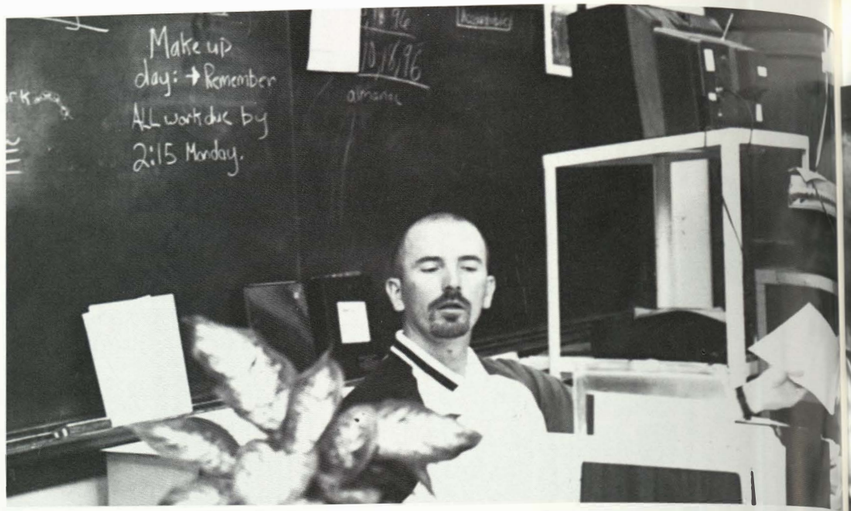
STAFF & FACULTY

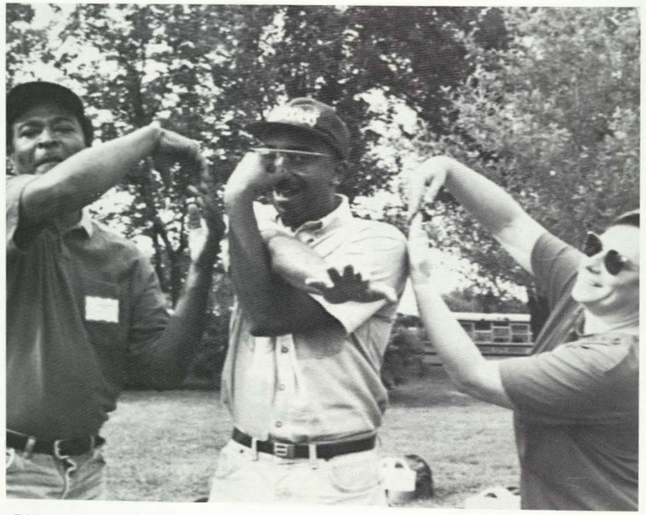


Jason Pendleton, social studies teacher, accepts a paper and reaches for another in helping a student finish a unit.

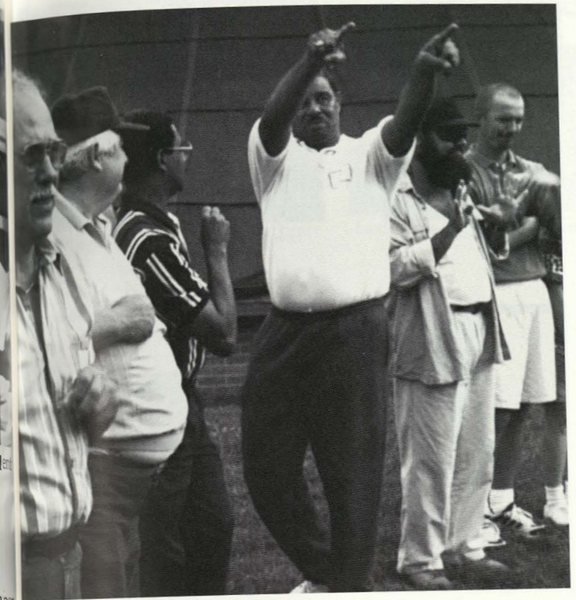
Just here to help

More than 100 adults spend everyday supporting students at Wyandotte High School.

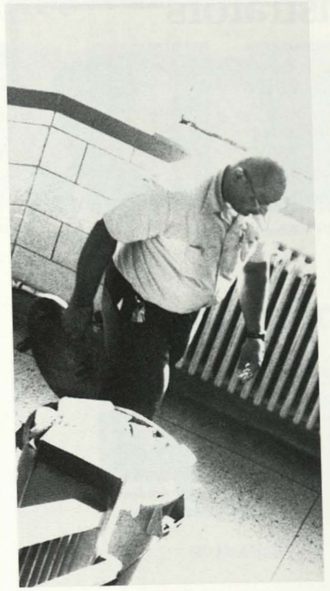
The nurse, counselors, teachers, para-professionals, administrators, secretaries, food service workers, custodians and librarians strive daily to make Wyandotte students reach their potential. In that effort, they try to keep students healthy, make schedules and deal with problems, feed students, help teachers teach, hold things together, keep everything clean as possible , handle information and books , and complete paper work.



Claude Anderson , math teacher, and Jan Stocstill, secretary, help Lawerence Barnes, business teacher, complete his elephant impersonation during a team building exercise.

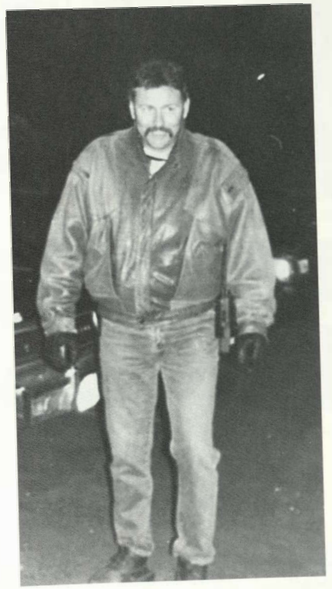


Principal Walter Thompson points the way to a successful team during the team building activities teachers and staff attended before school began Aug. 26.



Custodian Roger Williams works hard to keep the school clean.

Coach Paula Nickum pins a corsage on senior LaRhonda Spears while senior Terri Wallace looks on. Corsages were given in recognition of a good volleyball season.



Richard Enloe, Wyandotte security officer, keeps our students safe in the parking lot and in the halls.

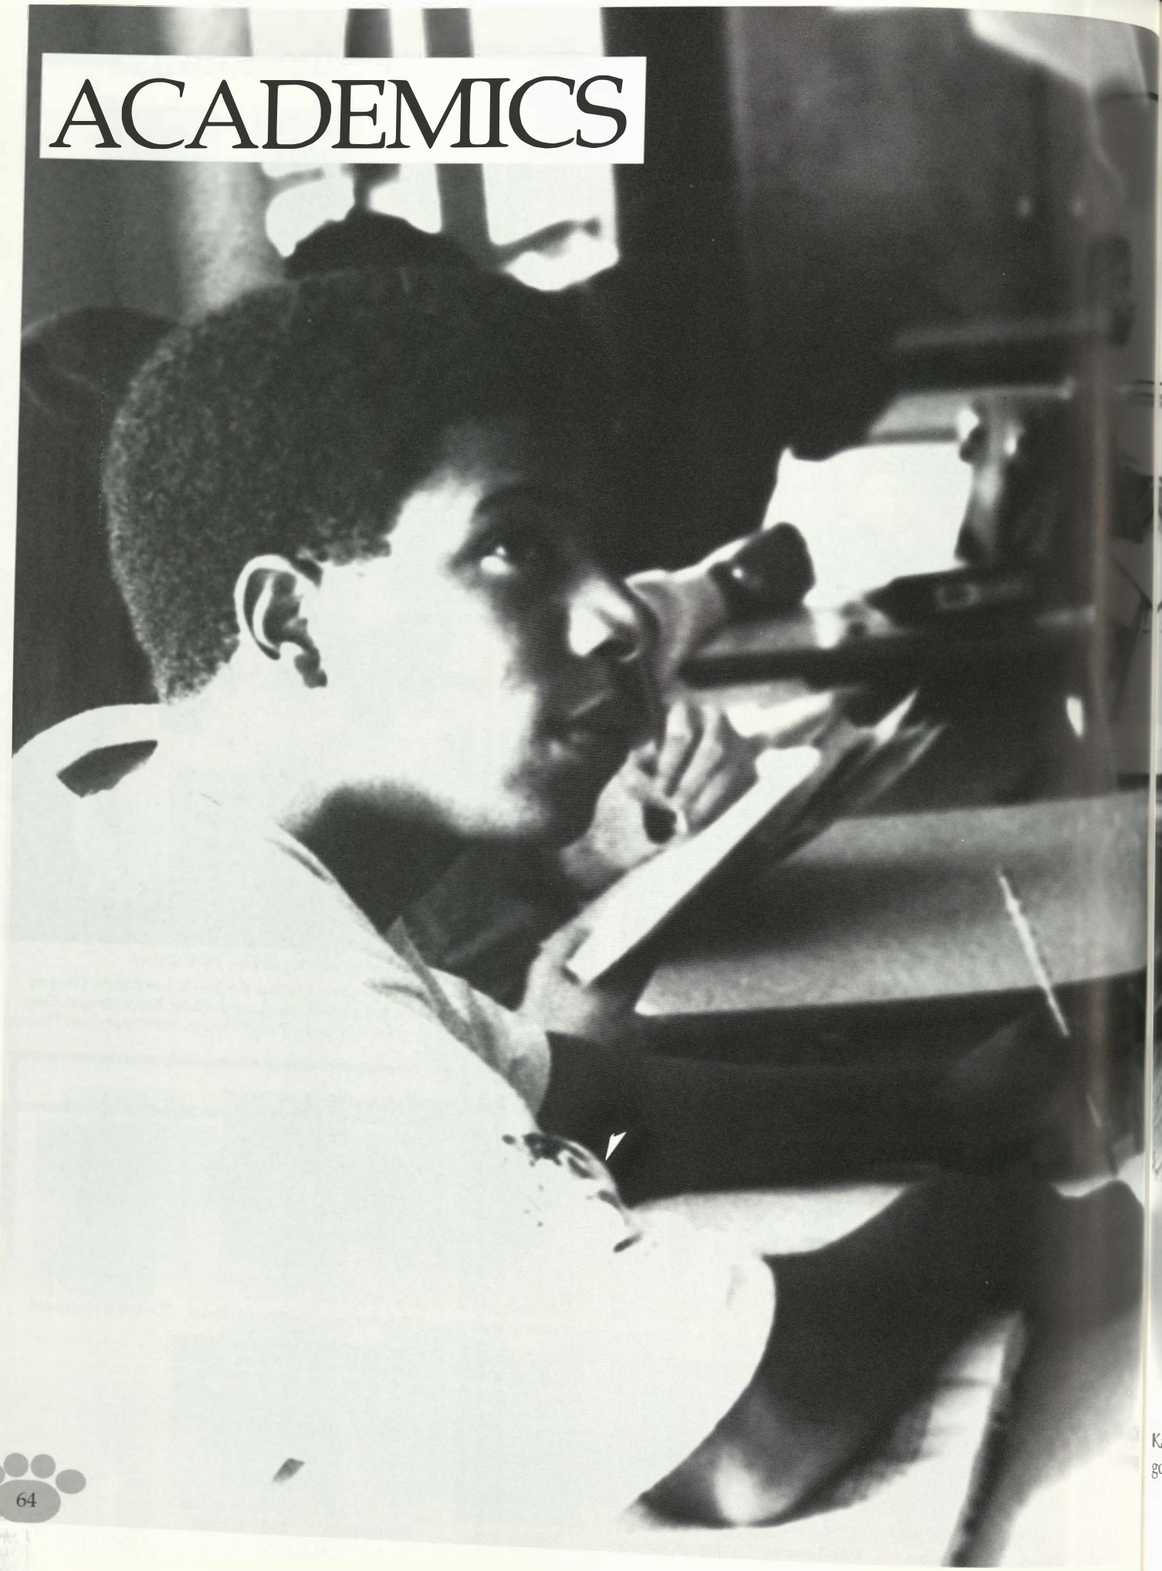
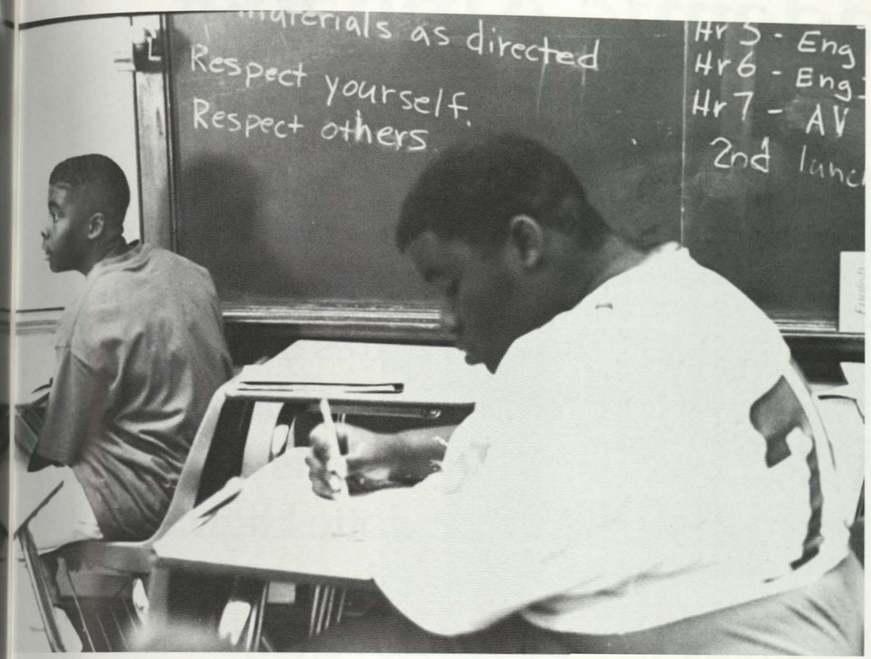
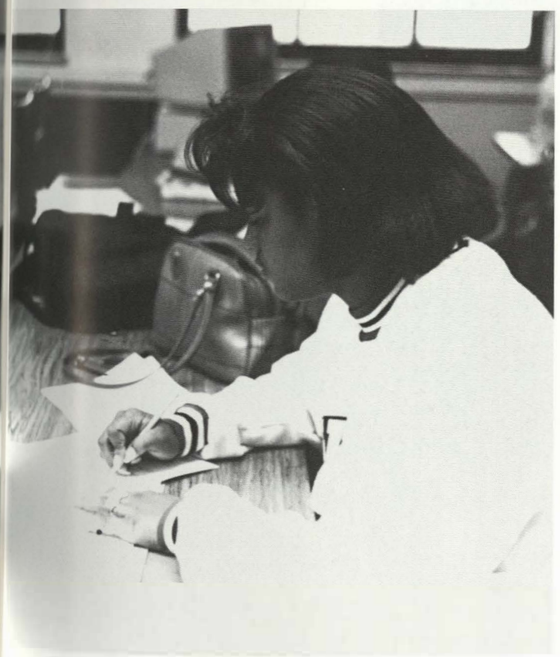
ACADEMICS





Jermaine Hicks and Anthony Hayes complete their work in their junior English class.



KaMeisha White, junior, works hard in class to achieve the high goals that teachers set at Wyandotte High School.

The Reason We're Here

When all is said and done, the reason Wyandotte High opens it's doors every morning is to provide students an education.

There are math students punching number after number into a calculator trying to solve the equation to find 'X'. Artists apply various amounts of pressure to get just the right line on a pot. Flowers are carefully pruned to maximize blossoms by greenhouse students.

Debates on issues of the day, practicing the art of acting, or reading a short story - they are all part of our lives.

What we learn is the foundation of our lives. It is serious business. Students and teachers take great pride in their work at this school.

The Academic Alphabet

Of the many cultures in this school, the Asian Club represents some. Wyandotte High School takes pride in our diversity.

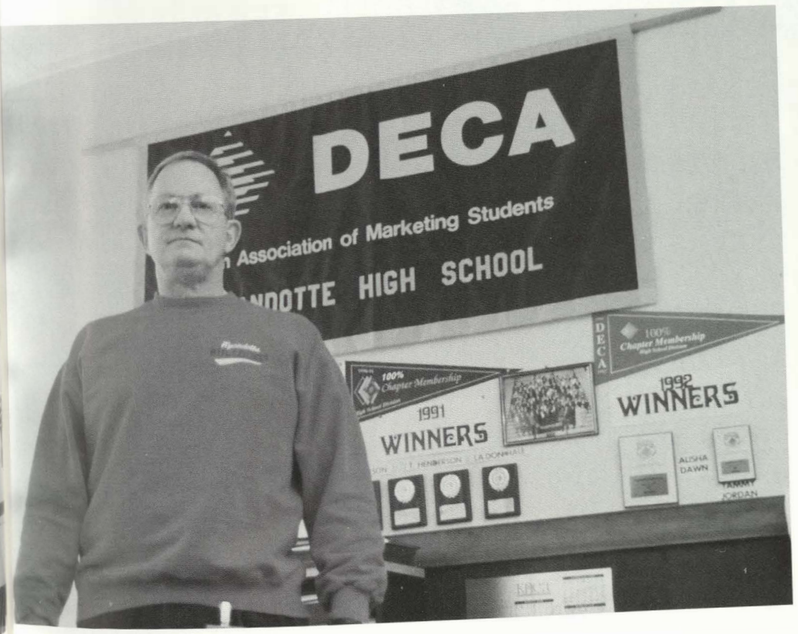
Brunch for Straight A's

These are the straight A's students for the first quarter. All A's students are treated to brunch. No doubt during the other three quarters more will join this group for brunch.

Computer Club

Senior Dao Xiong is a member of the Computer Club. The sponsor is Nancy Kurtz.

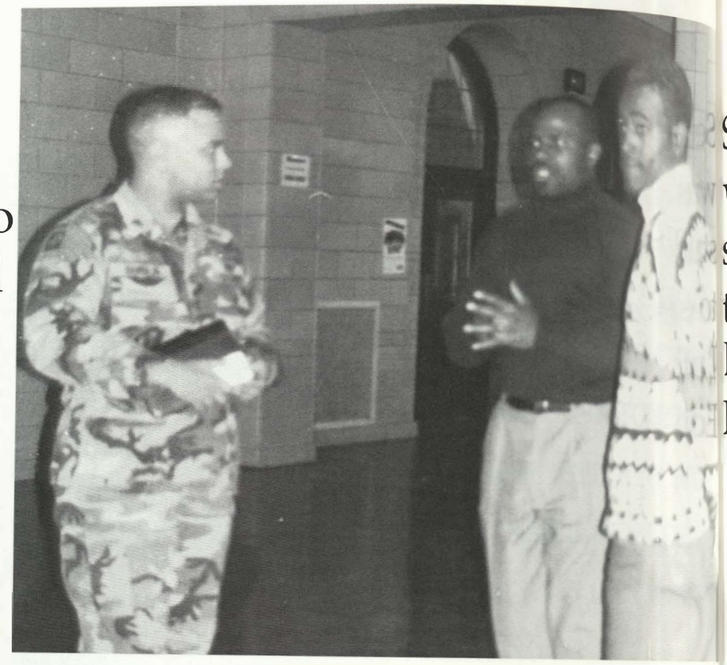
DECA

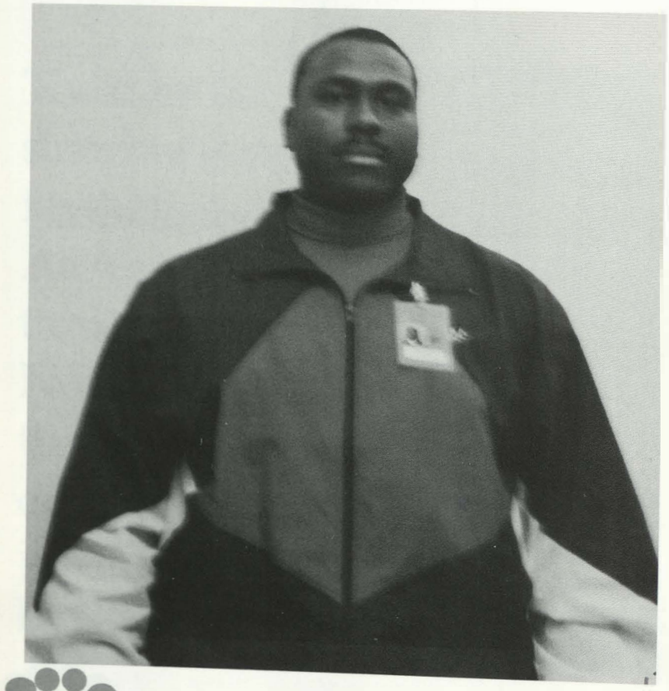


DECA is a program offered to students. They attend school to fifth hour then proceed to jobs, as hands on experience.

piE

Parents In Education is a program to get the parents and other mentors involved . So far, it's going well.



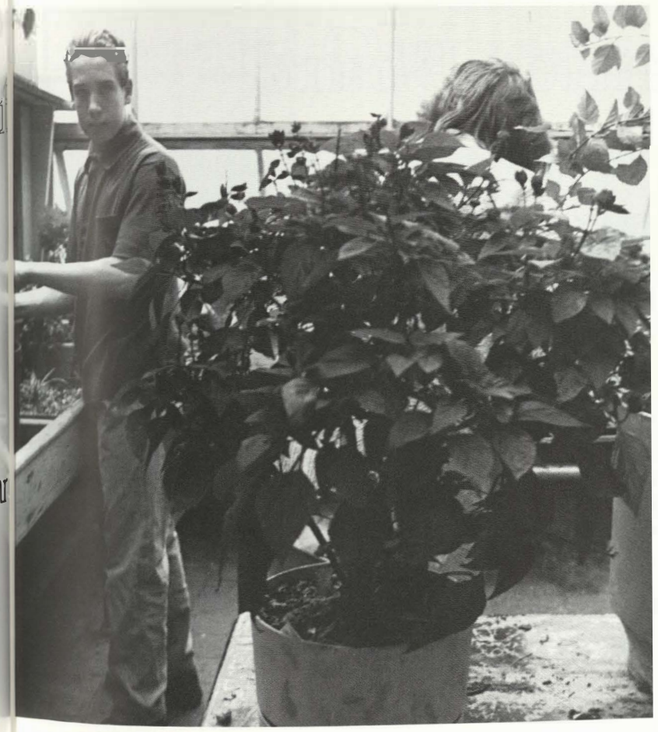


Fellowship of Christian Athletes

At least 20 students are involved in this club. John Richard is the new sponsor of this club.

Great Achievments

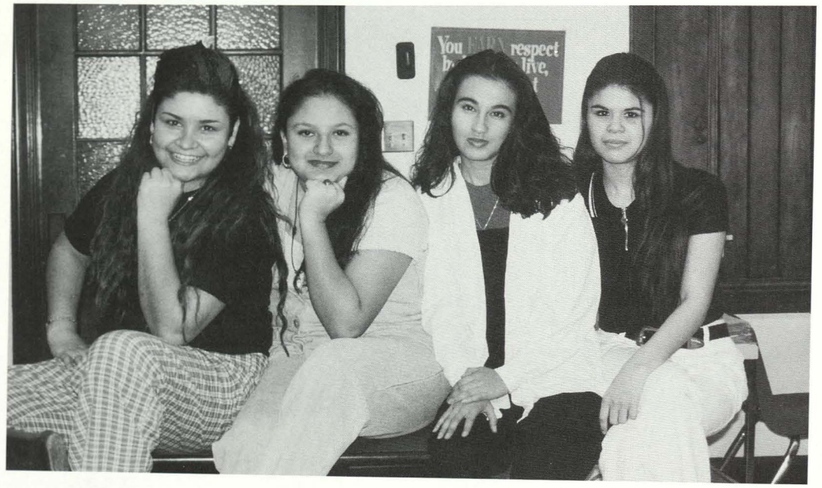
Senior Jamila Coleman was one of the five students at Wyandotte to earn the Martin Luther King Jr. Educational Award.



Horticulture

Those who loves plants usually can be found in the Horticulture club or in the greenhouse on the third floor.

International Club



Junior Salina Castaneda, Senior Adriana Rios, Juniors Sonia Chavez and Graciela Villarreal are only four members of this large, active club

Junior Board

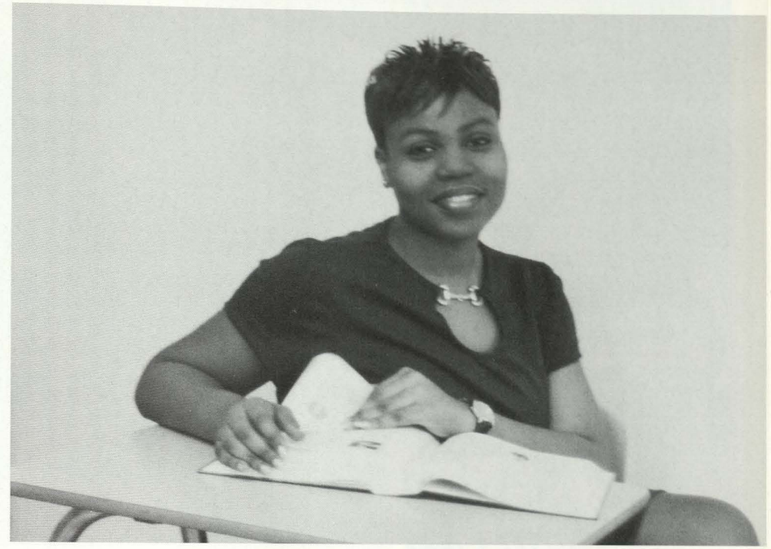
Kansas Scholars

Senior Tiffany Williams is one of the many Kansas Scholars at Wyandotte. These students were selected for being the top 10 percent in the state.



Literary Quiverian Club

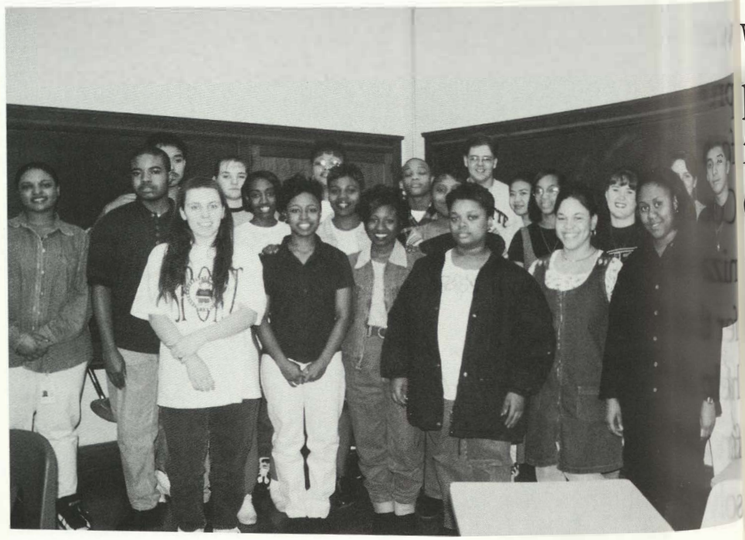
The Literary Quiverian Club of Wyandotte used to be known as the library club. They adopted the new name just this year.

Medical Careers

The future workers in the medical profession can be found in our Medical Careers Club. Active in helping others and sharing information, they were one of the more active groups at WHS.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society is an exclusive group of high achieving 10-12 grade students. It requires high grades and community service.



bOOster Club

We owe the Booster Club lots of thanks for what they do for us. They raise money for all of our needs. Thank you Booster Club. We Love You.

Peer Counseling

Students who want to resolve problems can be found in the Peer Counseling organization. They offer their services to help all students find better ways to solve problems.

Halftime

During the 1996 football season, the fans may have enjoyed the halftime shows more than the actual football game.

The Band and Drill Team worked hard practically every day to put together the excellent halftime shows.

"I think that the exciting halftime shows really made up for the disappointing games," said Junior Katrina Winston. The fans were not the only ones that enjoyed the halftime shows. According to the football team, just the sound of the halftime show got them hyped.

"When you hear the sound of the Band and Drill Team out there giving it their all, it makes you want to go out there and give it your all too," said Jermaine Hicks, a football player for the Bulldogs. Samuel Crumble agreed with Hicks, " It gets you hyped, you come out there thinking that it's a new game and all you can think about is hitting people on the field."

Several fans watch the halftime performance.

The band and drill team give it their all out on the field during one of the many halftime shows.

Homecoming

The 1996 Homecoming lived up to it's Wyandotte tradition. Students got together, had fun, went to the football game, went to the dance, the assembly, elected the Homecoming candidates, elected the queen, and enjoyed all of these special events.

For the Homecoming dance, the cafeteria was decorated with bright emerald green, pearl and gold by Student Council members. Wyandotte cheerleaders and Kay Cees held a garage sale on Sept. 21 in the cafeteria. They raised nearly $200. The proceeds helped pay for the dance.

Jessica Doyle reigned over the dance with her court ,which consisted of Crystal Thomas, Mia D. Williams, Sabrina Parker, and Ebony Robinson.

The heartbreaking football game was at Roy A. Edwards Field on Sept. 27. The Bulldogs lost 31 to 30 to the Center High School Yellow Jackets of Kansas City, MO. The Bulldog offense was too late, scoring two touchdowns within two minutes during the fourth quarter.

Ben and Christine, Paula Nickum's kids, were junior escorts to the Homecoming Court.

MARCHING BAND

The 1996 Wyandotte Bulldog Marching Band faced many new things and accomplished much.

New uniforms arrived Halloween day though they had been expected for months. The trim military-type uniform proudly were displayed at the home football game against Harmon Nov. 1. "The uniforms were expected 3 months earlier," said John White, band director.

White was notified only two days before school started, Aug. 26, that he was destined to become a Bulldog. Derrick Hibler, former band director, and Walter Thompson, new principal, hand picked White from a few candidates. Hibler left Wyandotte to become the Assistant Vice Principal at Washington.

"Without the help of the drum majors, seniors, and Thompson; who is my role model" said White. "I would of never made it through the year."

The highlight of the year was the Band Festival held on Oct.15,1996. "Even though it was only a critique, the band felt as if we had won. It was our best performance ever," said White.

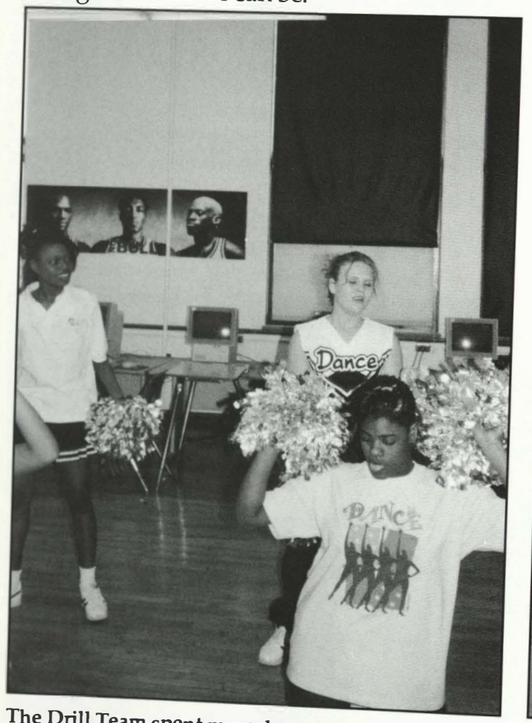
Drill Team

The 1996-97 Bulldog Drill Team started the school year in true Bulldog style. They competed in a Spirit Festival at DeSoto High School in September and were recognized with a Superior Award for their outstanding routine.

Drill Team members could be seen showing their school pride at pep assemblies and performing at many football games with the Bulldog Marching Band.

Community service is another important part of the Drill Team. The squad adopted a needy family during the holiday season.

The Drill Team has helped to continue the great Wyandotte High School tradition of being "the best we can be."



The Drill Team spent many hours after school perfecting their routines and physical conditioning for the demands of performances.

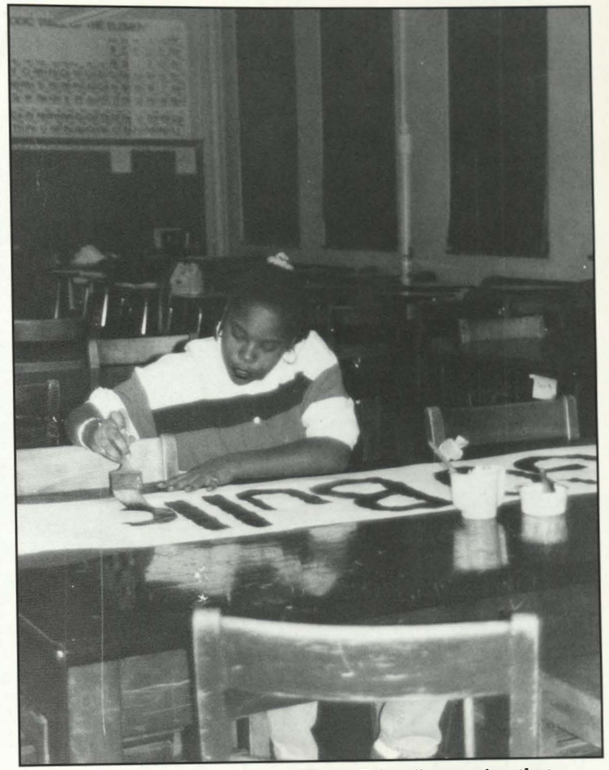
Kay Cees

The Wyandotte High School's Kay Cees are what other schools call pep club. The pep club has been called Kay Cees to help carry on the rich tradition at WHS.

The name Kay Cees came from the original school at 18th and Minnesota. The school's name was Kansas City High School and it's pep club was called the Kay Cees. When WHS was opened in 1937 it was decided then that the name Kay Cees would remain the title given to the pep club in order to keep in touch with the past.

The 1996-97 members of Kay Cees were busy keeping school spirit high. They were responsible for all of the inspirational signs that filled the halls and gym prior to home games. They co-sponsored a garage sale that helped pay some of the costs of the homecoming dance.

The Kay Cees had a very successful year in keeping the great tradition alive for WHS. There is a great past and the Kay Cees helped to make this year one that every Bulldog could be proud.



Junior, Tanya Taylor, paints " Go Bulldogs" on a sign that was hung in the gym for the Wyandotte versus Washington basketball game on Jan. 17.

THAT'S OUR CRY!

The 1996-97 Bulldog Cheerleaders were small in number but not in spirit.

A new faculty sponsor, Song Koppenhaver took on the responsibility of the squads. She was perfect for the job due to the fact that she was a former Bulldog Cheerleader.

The squads were busy this year with many things. They could be found practicing for hours after school in the front hall. They cheered at games and in the Social Hall on Fridays. They also co-sponsored a garage sale that raised money for the homecom ing dance. They aimed for high spirit by selling Bulldog spirit shirts for all to wear.

Cheerleaders worked to make this year one of great school spirit and high Bulldog camaraderie.

HALLOWEEN

Halloween brought out the ghoul in several Bulldogs this year. The halls were filled with vampires, witches and other frightful sights. Many students had their evenings planned with many devilish events. Some took their younger brothers or sisters trick or treating. Others had parties to attend dressed in their favorite costume. Some Bulldogs found themselves at home handing out candy to little monsters and watching scary movies.

Wyandotte was represented on Halloween at Indian Springs by the Booster Club and the sponsor Paula Urqhart. The Booster club handed out candy to all of the trick or treaters that spooked the mall that evening.

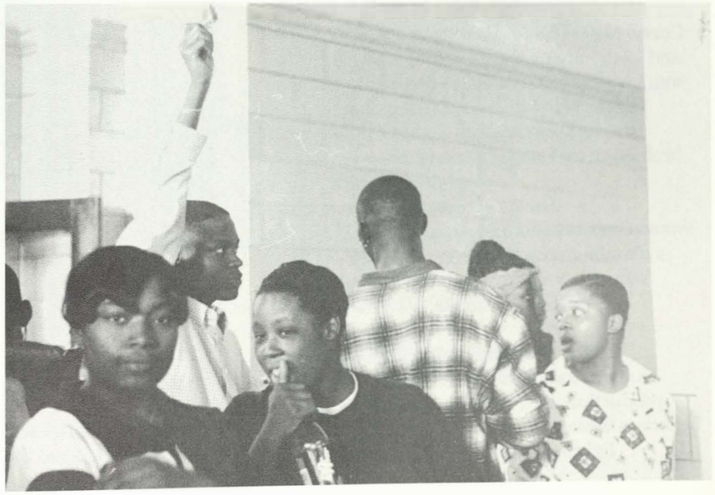
SPIRIT WEEK

Spirit week was held the week before Thanksgiving vacation. It was a short week due to the holiday but it was packed with fun. Monday Nov. 25. was pajama day. Students rolled right out of bed and were on their way to school. Tuesday Nov. 26. was service day. Bulldogs were asked to wear service oriented uniforms. In the halls students walked by many waitresses, doctors, nurses and mechanics. Wednesday Nov. 27. was red and white day. The halls were a sea of Bulldog colors.

School spirit was high and good times were evident. Bulldogs made spirit week 1996 a great success.

The senior auction was held on service day. Michael McRoy was one of the many seniors 'sold' by the auctioneers Particia Sotelo and Christina Woodson.

Tamika Watson, sophomore, shows her spirit on pajama day by wearing her robe and nighty to school.



Many students, like Sophomore Nosaze Knight, could be found bidding for a senior to work for them on service day.

Bulldog dramatics return with two productions

"Fences" a hit, as first play at Wyandotte High in five years

Theater, and even dinner theater, returned triumphantly to Wyandotte High School Dec. 6 with the production of "Fences" by August Wilson.

Nearly 40 people came early to the production to enjoy the Mexican feast served in the library. The Close-Up Club for New Americans catered the festive affair and used the proceeds to travel to Washington D.C. in January for the inauguration of President Bill Clinton.

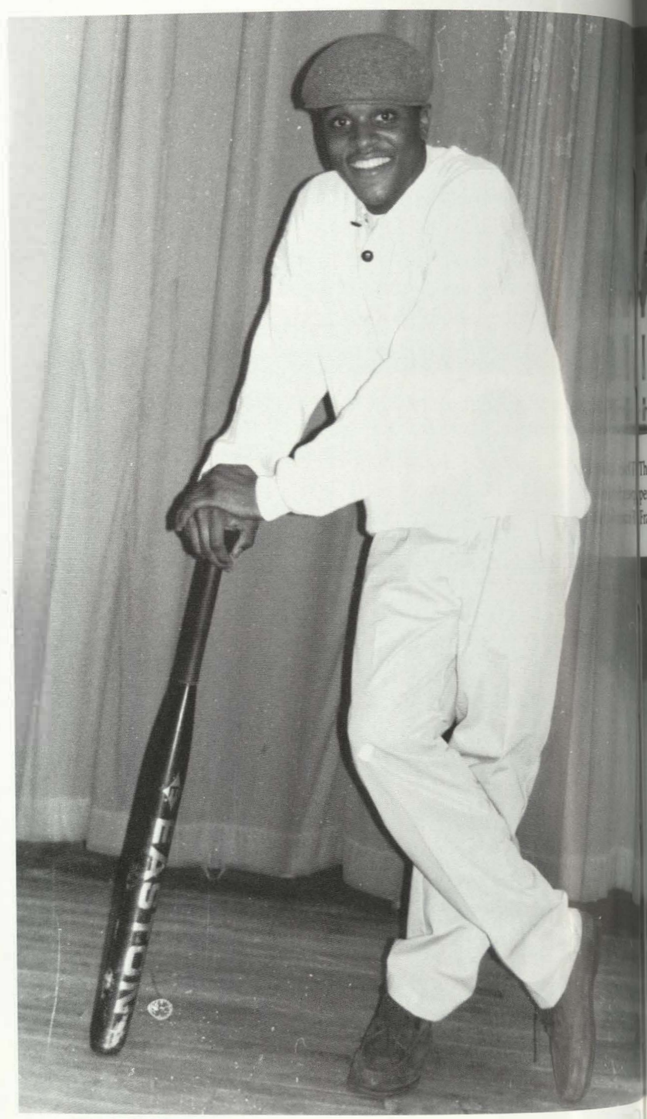
Five years may have been a long time to wait, but the audience agreed it was well worth it. The Drama Department planned a musical "The Amen Corner" for April 17 and 18.

"Fences" is the story of a 53-year-old man who failed to make it in the old Negro baseball league. His struggles to raise his family from 1957 to the time of his death is the plot.

Troy, played by Sophomore Michael Payne, is helped with his wife of 18 years, Rose, played by Senior Mia K. Williams. His son, Corey, played by Junior Franklin Jackson argue and Corey finally leaves home. Another grown son, Lyons, played by Sophomore Marcus Sims tries to help but ends up just being "needy" throughout the play. A slightly demented brother, crazy Gabriel, is played masterfully by Sophomore Mark Akins.

Things get "sticky" when another women gets pregnant by Troy and gives birth to a daughter who Rose eventually raises as her own. A more grown up Raynell, played by Sophomore Tamika Wills, isn't too old when Troy dies.

Drama teacher Kevin Benbow played Troy's friend, Bono, and helped co-direct the production with Sophomore Chantel Young. Benbow's theater students aided with sets, props, lighting and other technical assistance.



Sophomore Michael Payne played the lead, Troy, in the fall production "Fences." He aged, he fought, he cried as a man who struggled to raise and keep a family together after having failed to "make it" in the old Negro baseball league. The play begins in 1957.

The curtain call of the Dec. 6 performance of the play "Fences" was an enthusiastic one. The cast performed to an enthusiastic crowd. From left are Sophomores Marcus Sims, Michael Payne, Junior Franklin Jackson, Senior Mia K. Williams, Sophomores Mark Akins and Tamika Wills.

Cory, played by Junior Franklin Jackson returns home after the death of his father, Tory. He hasn't been home in many years after a fight with Tory. His stepmother, played by Senior Mia K. Williams, tries to talk him into attending the funeral. The production "Fences" tells of the struggle of a family.

SWEETHEART DANCE

On Saturday, Feb. 8 Wyandotte High School's annual Sweetheart Dance was held in the east cafeteria. The dance is sponsored by Student Council and has been a tradition for the last 23 years.

The colors chosen this year were red, black and gold. The theme, "Still In Love With You" was selected from the popular R&B group New Edition.

Students were found dancing to music provided for by a D.J. from Hot 103.3 Jamz and snacking on cookies, popcorn and punch.

The court consisted of one male and female from each class. The winners were:

Freshmen: Jeffrey Walker and Latasha Johnson

Sophomores: Brandon Hall and Jamel Jones

Juniors: Darryl Zewalk and Satrina Doyal

Seniors: DeShaun Daniels and Janel Paschall

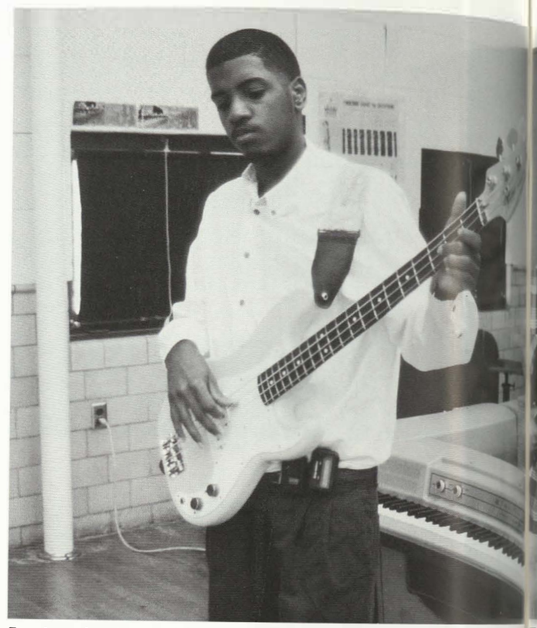
Instrumental Music

Jazz Band

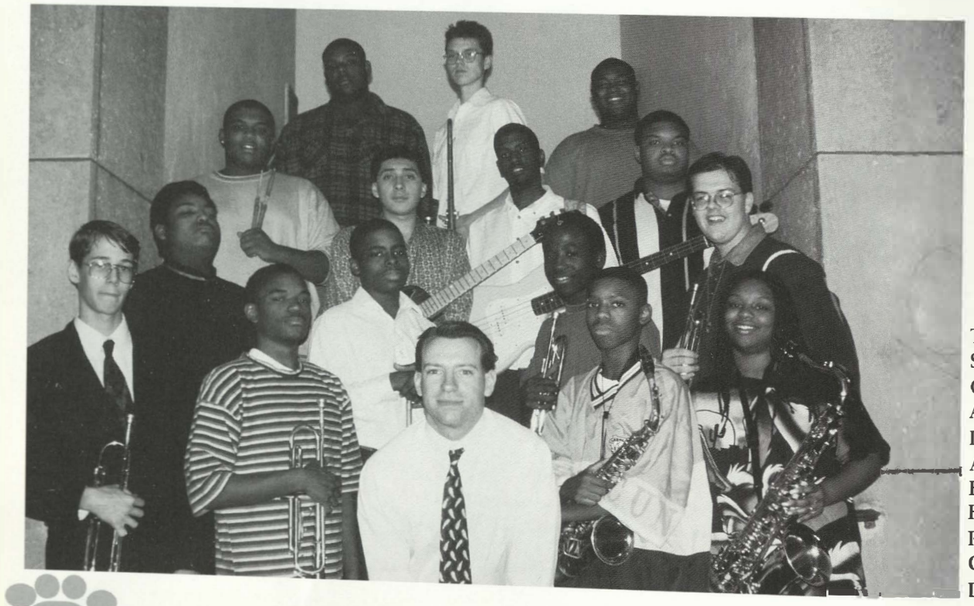
The Jazz Band has a very high level of musicianship and the level of music reading gets better everyday. The Jazz Band performs in Wyandotte programs throughout the year, including the Christmas program.

The Jazz Band will be attending the University of Kansas Jazz Festival, Friday, April 18. They will have a 30 minute performance and a 30 minute clinic which will serve as a critique for areas that need improvement.

The Bulldog Jazz Band works hard to make every performance something Wyandotte can be proud of.



Junior, Anthony Abston, warms up on his bass guitar before one of the many practice sessions with the jazz band.



The Jazz Band members are Shannon Bedell, Russell Coll, Latisha Handson, Anthony Hayes, Michael Portley, Preston Portley, Anthony Abston, Earl Heinonen, Daniel Hernandez, Sean Kelley, Ronald Young, Daniel George, Aubrey Lewis and Danica Locke.

Orchestra

"Orchestra is doing great. We are one of the top groups in the district. The students are dedicated and always on time," said band director, John White.

The Orchestra plays a wide variety of college level music and can be found performing at several school functions. The group will be attending the Ovation Music Festival which is a nationwide critique in California. They will be critiqued on a scale from one to four, with one being the best. They are scheduled to leave Wednesday, March 19 and return the following Monday.

Daily practice is a must and it is evident when the orchestra plays. They represent Wyandotte on the local and national scale with true Bulldog spirit.

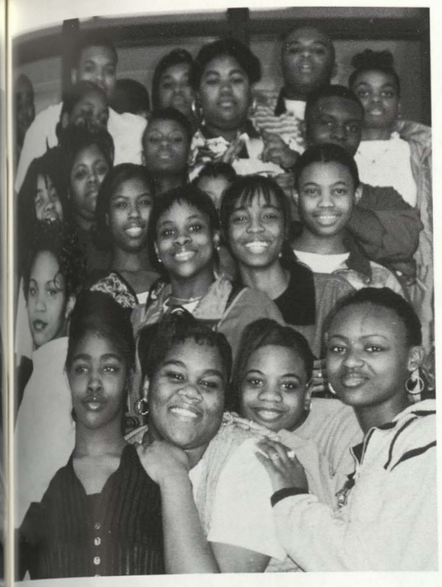
The first chairs of the orchestra are Keith Lowe, Schiantel Arrington, Cachella Price and Crystal Garren.

The Wyandotte High School Orchestra members are: Marini Brown, Katrina Boyers, Kelly Estell, Andrea Gomez, Nasiha Khalil, Cachella Price, Amanda Rambusch, Schiantel Arrington, Jessica Sullivan, Bernice Blakney, Crystal Garren, Keith Lowe, Melva Anderson, Desiree Estes, Danica Locke, Stacee Walker, Tracee Walker, Collin Parrish and Kyle Warman.

Bulldog Choirs

Wyandotte students have always been known as good singers. The number and variety of choirs testifies to that fact. Wyandotte has five different choirs. They are Women's Ensemble, Accapella Choir, Concert Choir, Wyandotte Singers, and Gospel Choir. They are all directed by vocal music teacher John Richard.

The Wyandotte High School Womens Ensemble members are: Tamika C. Smith, Kim Nelson, Jamel Jones, Crystal Turner, Tiffany Holloway, Ebony Arnold, Chantel Young and Natalya Sullivan.



The Gospel Choir members include: Elton Walker, Regina Harmon, Chris DeWitt, Tiffany Bullock, Tifani Portley, Missy Robinson, Shenia Austin and Tiffany Broadus.

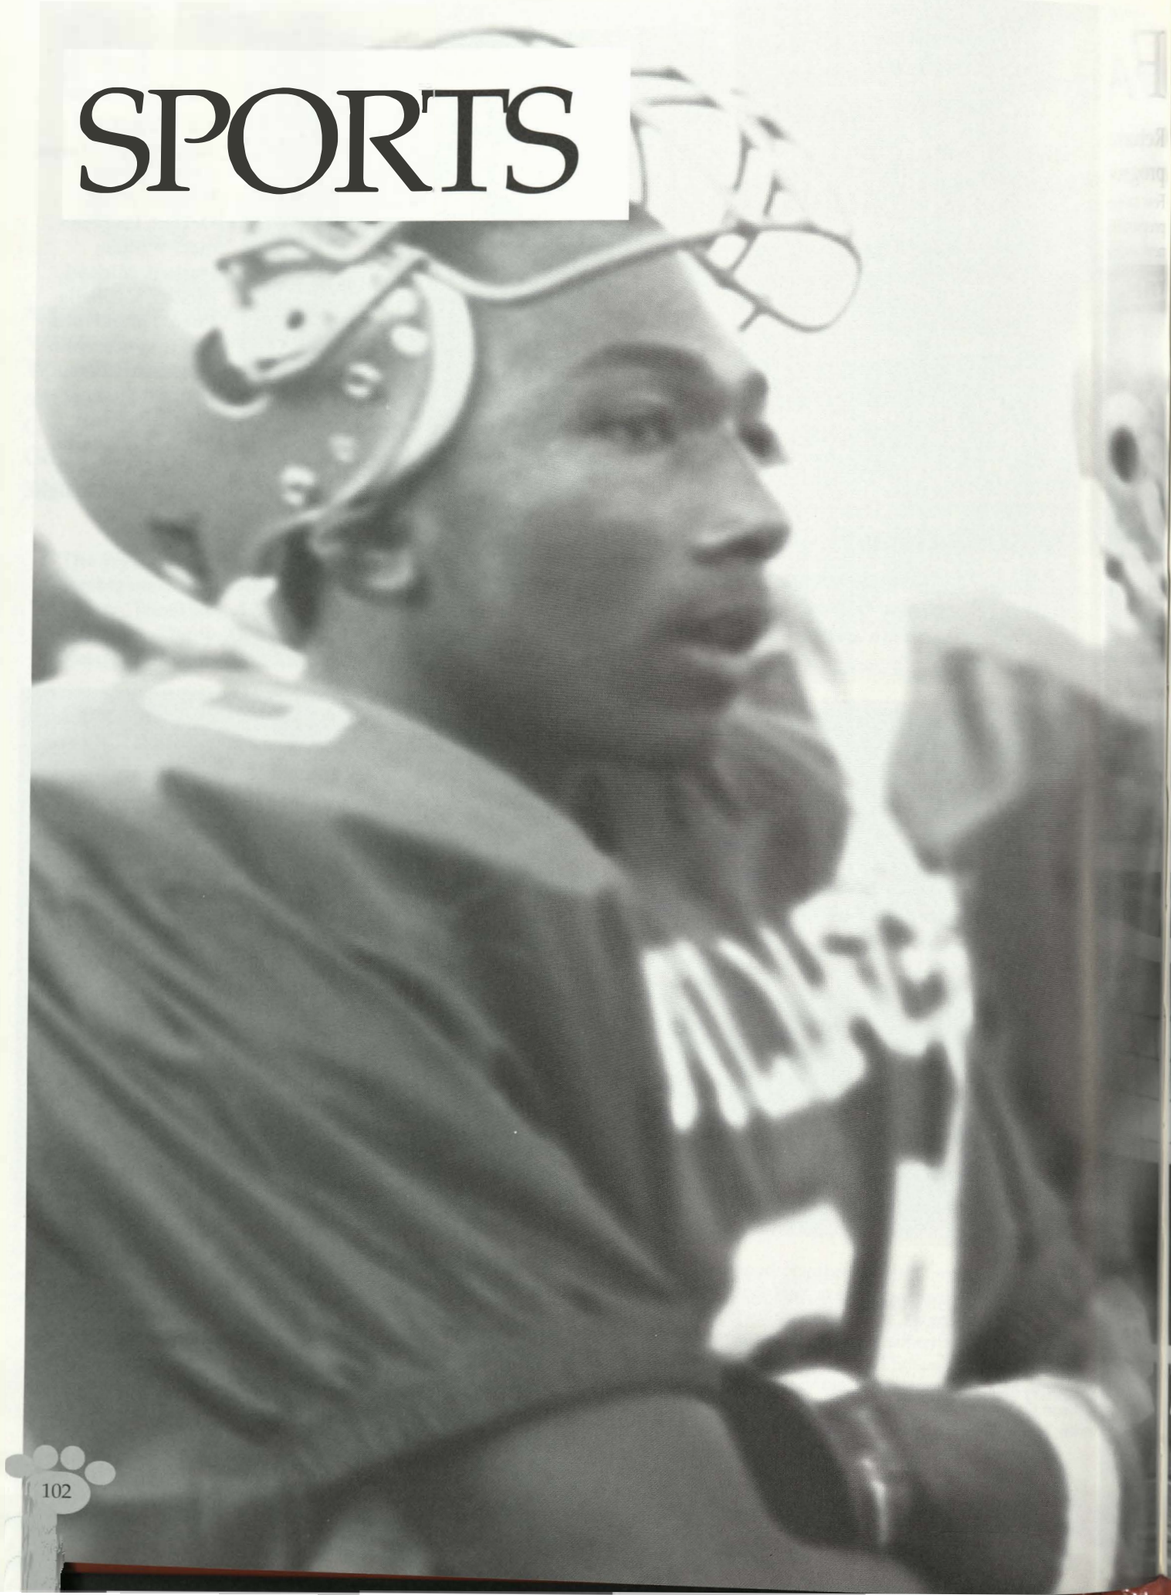
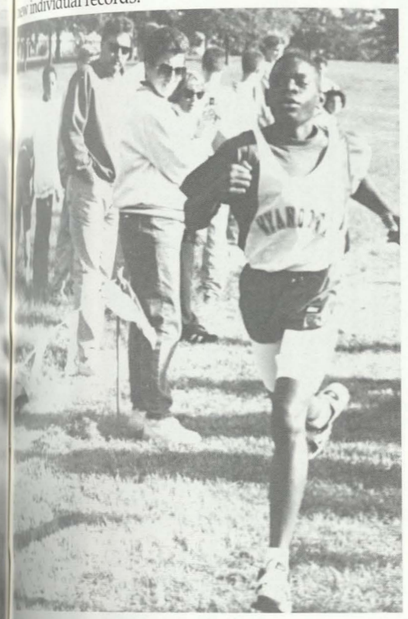
SPORTS

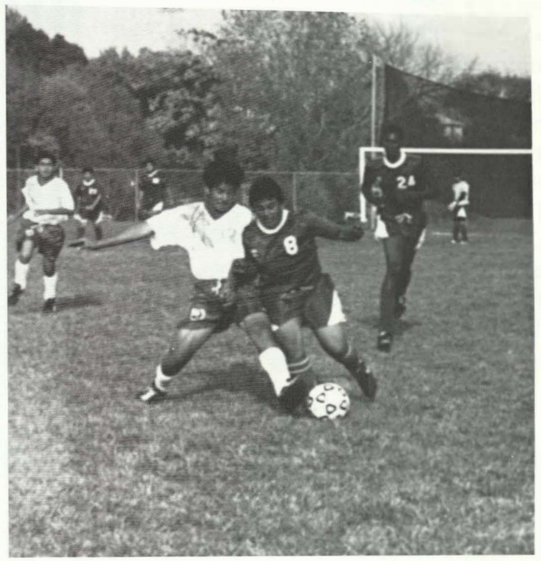


Fall Marks Beginnings

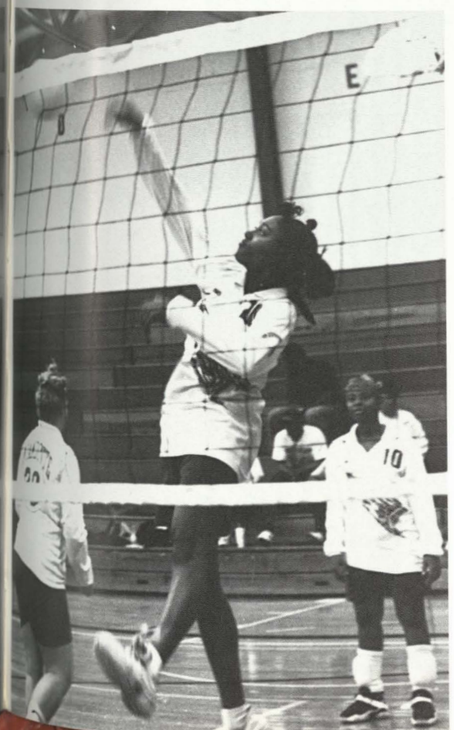
Returning to school, student athletes had high hopes for victories and glory. As the season progressed, experience and effort were the benefits.

Low in number but with hundreds of miles in preparation, the Bulldog Cross Country team ran to new individual records.





For the first time in 110 years, a Wyandotte soccer team took the field this season. In every game , players gained experience and improved. While playing a Junior Varsity schedule, the Bulldogs earned two victories and high hopes for next year.



Three football teams shared the frustration of losing seasons. Without playoff hopes, the Varsity ended the season with a loss . They had injury problems and ended the season with only one victory.

Full spirited Varsity, Junior Varsity and Freshmen volleyball teams took their enthusiam to the court .

The Fans

Who are these people?

Sometimes there are many. Sometimes there are few. They yell, scream, cheer, pray and hope. Some say they are the reason the competition happens.

They came in all sorts of weather. In freezing cold, sizzling heat, inside or out, their vocal support of the Bulldogs is sincere.

They support Bulldog soccer, volleyball, football and cross country. They're always there.

They come in all ages and sizes. They are fellow students, parents, brothers, sisters, grandparents, alumni, faculty and staff.

They come. They cheer. They're appreciated.

They are Bulldog fans.

Wyandotte's first ever soccer season.

It Was A Great First Year for the Bulldog Soccer Team

Saturday, Sept. 21, 1996 at 10 a.m. Wyandotte soccer team made history by becoming the first team to take the field against Turner High School's junior varsity team.

Early that Saturday morning, more than 100 fans watched the Bulldogs gallantly fall, 0-3. Perhaps the first soccer game in a 110 years of Wyandotte history weighed too heavily. They rebounded however, and won their first game the next time out, beating J.C. Harmon's junior varsity team 6-0.

"This is very exciting, I just love the enthusiasm," said Wyandotte's athletic director and assistant principle Charlotte Davis. She was instrumental in starting the program after meeting with involved parents last summer.

Senior Carlos Garcia agreed with teammates, coaches and fans alike, "We need to play more as a team and communicate better.

For a first season however, the Bulldogs' record, may show that team work was being learned

Wyandotte does well by keeping the opponents from scoring.

Miriam Erives is the only girl on the soccer team and she spent many hours practicing ball control.

Hours of practice bring skill levels up but winning record will need to wait until next year

Season A Disappointment

It began with high hopes and expectations. Plagued by injuries, discipline problems and teamwork, the football team ended the season in disappointment.

For the first time in years, hopes for a spot in league playoffs dimmed with each loss. Even the single victory was tarnished when it was learned Bishop Miege had benched some key players for discipline problems of their own.

Renewed hope comes from the lessons learned, experience gained and the chance to compete.

The "Bulldogs" get ready to put the hurt on Bishop Miege.

Cross Country Team Finishes

After hundred of miles in preparation, the 1996 Bulldog Cross Country team finished the race. Perhaps that's the highest praise for a long distance runner.

The young team met that challenge and found sollace in knowing they gained experience for many more miles to be run next year.

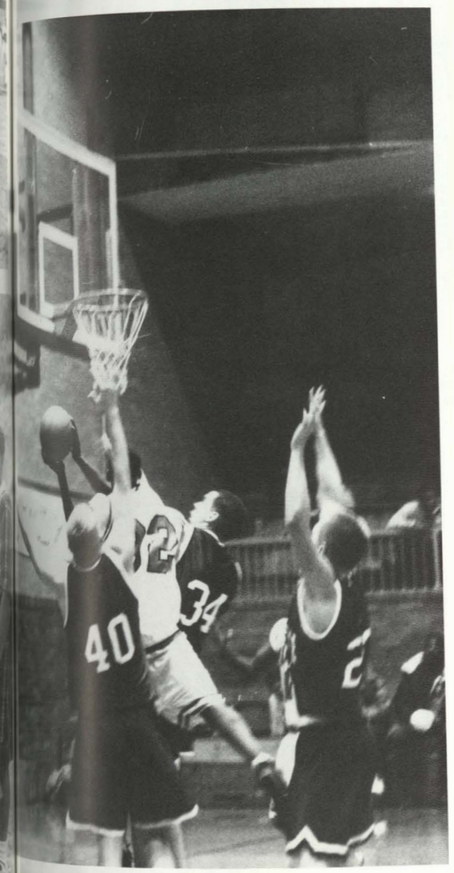
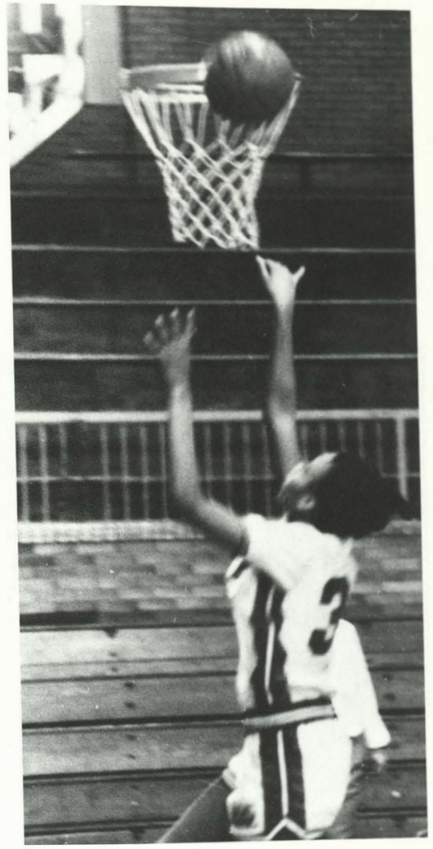
Winter Sports

Wyandotte's excellent history in winter sports made our 1996-teams "Never Surrender", as the Boys Basketball team's adopted gan for the year. All winter sports participants worked hard to tinue the tradition of the Bulldog's superior past victories.

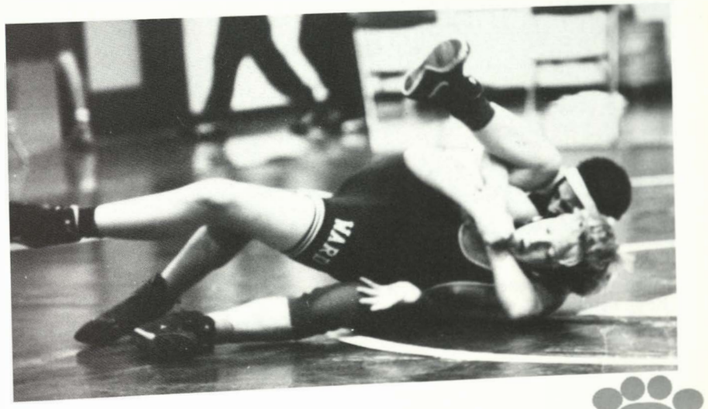


The boys Bulldog Basketball team fought their way around many obstacles on their way to victory. Here Senior Alvin Dockery drives for another two Bulldog points in the victory Jan. 7 against Lawrence High School.

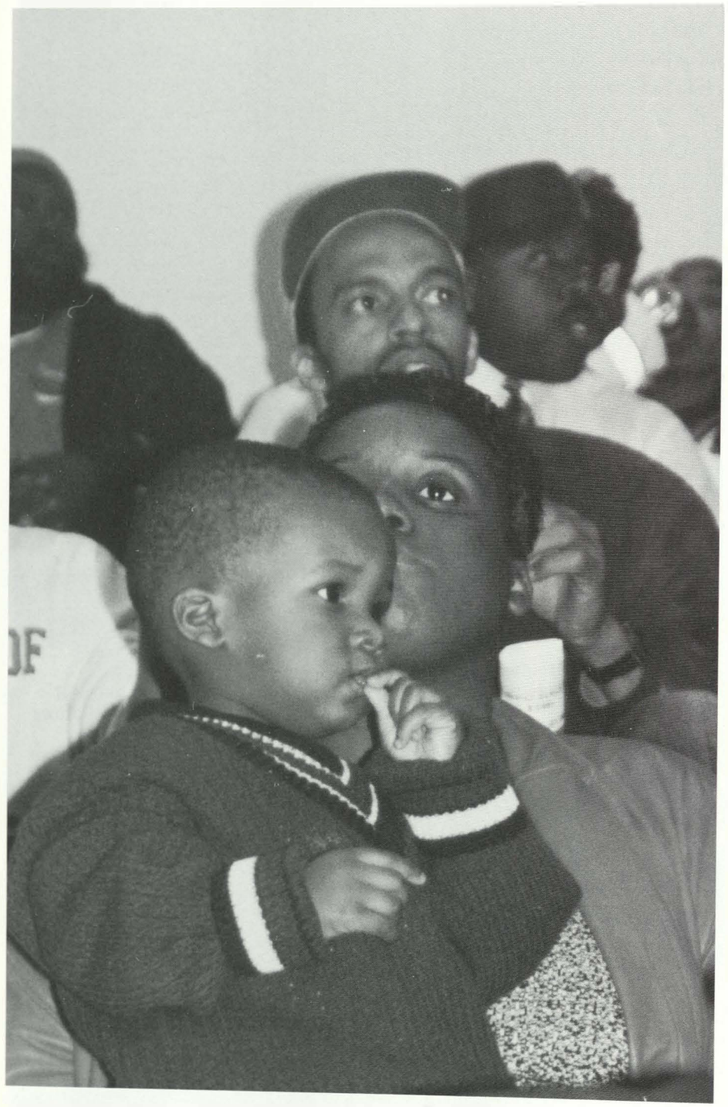
The Bulldog Wrestlers kept the competition hot this season and placed in many of the meets. They grabbed third place in the annual Wyandotte High School Invitational Wrestling Tournament Jan. 18.



The Lady Bulldogs were heard barking loudly on the court as freshman Shauntay Walker goes up for a basket.

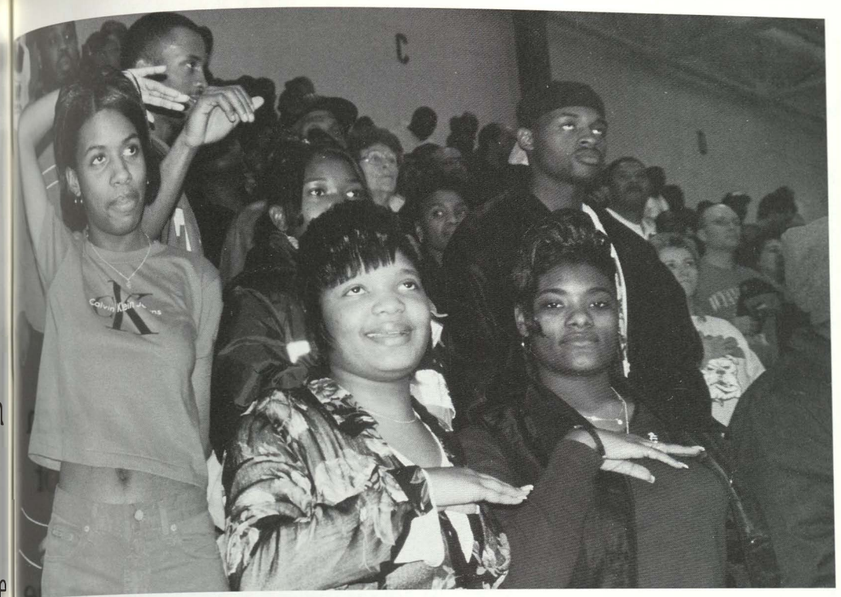


Winter fans

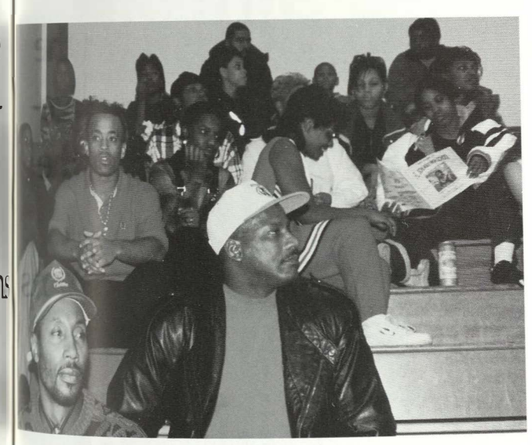


Bulldog fans come in all ages and sizes. This young Bulldog watches the boys varsity basketball team fight on to victory and dreams of the days when he, too will bring glory to Wyandotte High School

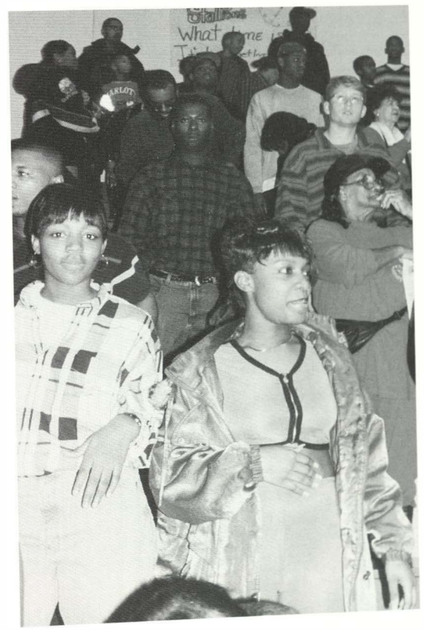
Winter fans do much more than get out of the cold during the coldest months of the year, they heat up the gymnasiums at Wyandotte with the spirited, knowledgeable cheering for the Bulldog boys' and girls' basketball teams and the WHS wrestlers.



rom left, Seniors Gwen Smith, Mia D. Williams and Shameca Moore show respect during the ational anthem before rooting and cheering for the boys and girls basketball teams as well as he Bulldog wrestlers.



Bulldog alumni show great enthusiasm for Bulldogs during the spring, fall, and winter. They attend games at home and away and still "never forget" their time at WHS or for that matter the Bulldog cheers that spark winter teams on the victory



Wyandotte students like Sophomore Mahogany Sloan, intently keep track of the Bulldog advances on the road to victory. Bulldog fans are the most loyal and educated of any student fans in the district.

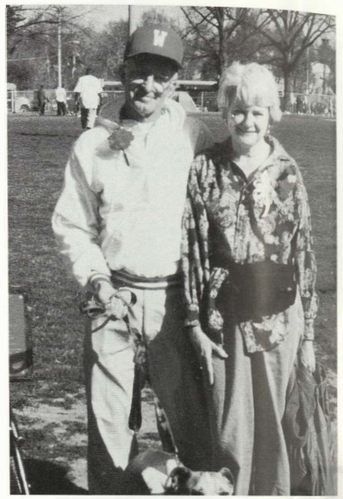
Spring sports

1996 was a good year for the Wyandotte Bulldog track and baseball teams. In true Bulldog fashion, they fought hard and had many personal and team victories.

The baseball team, although their record was 1-16, fought bravely and with true Bulldog spirit.

The track team won the league championship for the second year in a row. Senior Phengsy Rattanavong captured the state champion title in the 300 intermediate hurdles.

The 1996 Bulldog track team members were Shaun Campbell, William Estell, Roman Palmer, Cedric Fierson, Ladarren Rabun, Daniel Franco, Charles Chaney, Thaddeus Allen, Jason Wilson, Lee Penix, Michael Smith, Tyrone Bates, Phegsy Rattanavong, Samual Crumble, Carl Campbell, Rjshad Morsdon, Kenneth Lowrey, Moa Thoa, Grant Lewis, Robert Verser, and Michael Smith



Bert Berthoff, longtime Wyandotte teacher and track coach retired from teaching at the end of the 1995-96 school year. He was honored at the 1996 Wyandotte Invitational Track meet.. His wife and Rudy joined students, faculty, fans, alumi in thanking "Bert" for his Bulldog spirit.

The 1996 Bulldog baseball team members were from top left, Ralph Sauseda, Tony Nevels, John Urquhart, Eddie Pacheco, Jack Halsted, John Gillespie, Shawn Fuller, Willie Young, Kenny Palmer, Brian Hernandez, Tom Urquhart. Bottom row from left, Terry Demoss, Larry Urbie, Nick Graham, Robert Barnes, Jason Bell and Jamie Hatley.

From the moment Charlotte Davis, assistant principal, introduced Jack Halstead and Rudy to the class of 2000, the tone was set for a great 1996-97 year at Wyandotte High School. Students were living, learning, having fun and yes, even studying.

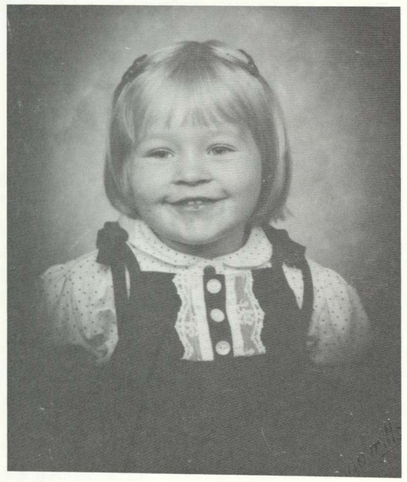
Lisa,
We are so proud of you. You've grown up to be a very beautiful young lady! Always remember that your Mom and Dad are always here for you. May all your dreams come true. We love you, Lisa.

Love,
Mom and Dad

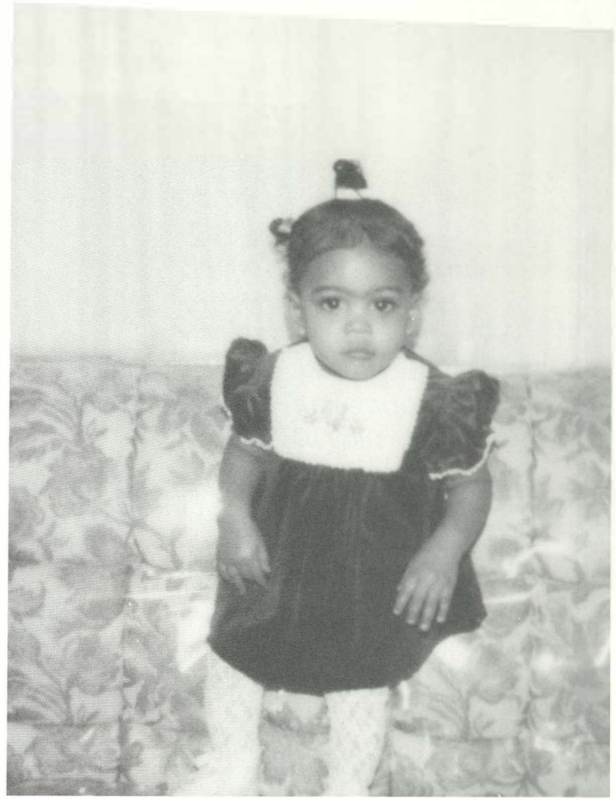


Sissy,
I am very proud of you. You are the best sister in the world.
Love, Andy

Jamila (beautiful one)

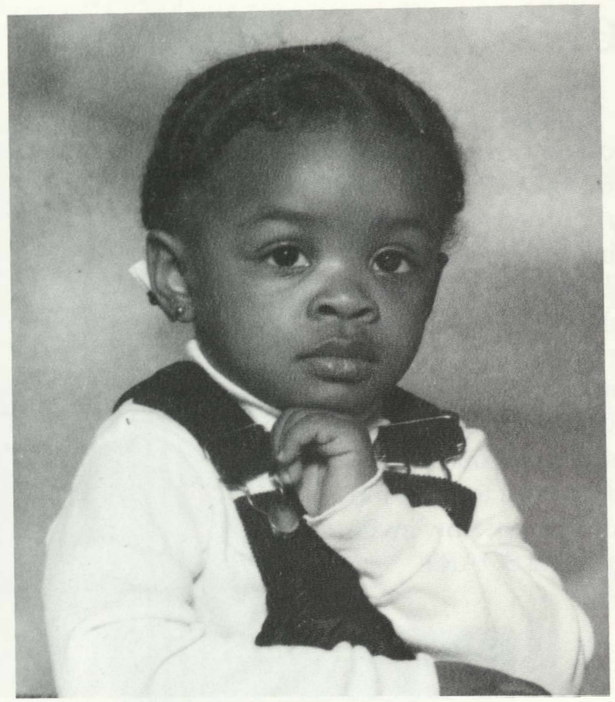
Janet (God's Precious Gift)

Your name wasn't selected by accident, nor because it sounded so melodic. It was chosen because, whatever you may become or whatever the world may think of you, you'll always be beautiful and precious to us. We thank God for the sunshine that He's given us through you. You have made us so very proud. The time has come for you to fulfill your dreams. Jamila, you are "so" unique! You love what God has blessed you with and you've not allowed yourself to succumb to peer pressure. We, your family, now invite you to spread your wings and SOAR!!!



Congratulations and much love,

Momma (Janet), Brother (Caleb), and Grandmother and Grandaddy (Evelena and Alvin Blackwell)



Brandi Woods

We have been blessed with a wonderful gift. At the time of your birth, we wanted to give you the very best. Materialism was not our goal. Bible training gave you FAITH and CONFIDENCE in our creator JEHOVAH GOD. Our SUPPORT in your endeavors gave you STRENGTH. And most of all, our undying LOVE for you gave you CHARACTER and made you the STRONG WOMAN we prayed that you'd become. Use your COURAGE and pursue your own goals now. May the things you seek to do in the future have much success. We love you forever and ever.

Your parents
Darryl and Janice Woods

Tracy, you are our chosen one
A gift to us all from God.
Your spirit shines from your eyes.
Our wish for you as you pass through the threshold of graduation is that you
keep your faith,
hold tight to your dreams,
and always remember
WE LOVE YOU

Aunt Darlene, Uncle Tom and Sasha

Kristine--

I would do it all over again!
You've been my greatest joy.

Love you,
Mom

To my best friends Crystal C., LaTasha P., Christina W., LaTisha H. and all my other friends I didn't mention (sorry).

"Well girls this is it, time to get out of our parents' house and become independent. I know some of us might be far away, separated by state lines or even oceans, but none of you will ever be far from my mind or separated from my heart. Be the best at whatever you decide to do, and if you ever need a friend I'm only a phone call away."

Kristine M. Griffith

To LaTisha Handson:

Although times are not always good, keep your head held high. Be strong no matter what may come your way. For life has many ups and downs. But it's up to you how you live it. You have made me proud of your accomplishments. Keep up the good work, And life will always give you what you give it.

Congratulations

Crystal D. Turner

For all of your achievements, You have proved yourself to be the Best. Continue to set your goals as high as your dreams will allow. For with pride, you hold the key to determination. With honor, you stand at the threshold of success.
With love for God and those who stand behind you, you will always excel above the rest.

Love always,
Mom, Dad, Grandparents, Sisters and Brothers

Congratulations

You have been faithful to the memory of your Dad's dream. You know Mom loves you, as well as the rest of the family.
(Carlton, Mike Jr., Preston, Monica, Kristi, "Poppee")

May God Bless you
Your Mom

Communicators

"The Pantograph"

"The Pantograph," newspaper, claims to be the voice of students at Wyandotte High School. The Bulldog bellowers set their sights on an incredible 18 issues during the 1996-97 school year.

From hall walkers to the new Zero Tardy Tolerance policy, Bulldog journalists prided themselves on nothing happening within the school that they didn't know about. In fact, many of the staff members also participated in sports, drama and other extracurricular activities.

Each issue took on a life of its own and, hopefully, reflected the growth of the staff. In the second semester, Journalism I class members contributed more and more preparing the way for a bigger, brighter "Pantograph" in 1997-98.

THE STAFF

Communicators

The Quiverian

With promises the yearbook would be bigger, better and have senior pictures in color, the 1997 Quiverian staff set about to complete 160 pages of a larger formatted book.

With an early February deadline, plans were to include a supplement to finish winter sports, spring sports and as many of the activities as possible during the last of the school year.

Readers and history will be the judge if this staff met all their high expectations.

The Quiverian staff, from left back row, seated: Senior Editor Tracy Chrisman, Sonia Chavez, Kristine Griffith, Tamika Watson. Seated on table: Junior Editor Katrina Winston. Seated behind table: Mandy Maslak, Amanda McCowan, Photo Editor Salina Castaneda, Adriana Rios, Danica Locke. In front of the table: Laquita Reynolds, Courtney Holt, Tiffany Williams and Adonja Pickett.
Not pictured: Daolee Xiong, Cyrstal Cushenberry and Graciela Villarreal.
